Tennessee Troopers Blame Bus Driver In Accident

BEAN STATION, Tenn. (AP) — Investigators say a Greyhound bus that collided with a tractor-trailer truck on U. S. 11W at Bean Station in Upper East Tennessee, killing 14 persons and injuring 15 more, was on the wrong side of the road.

Capt. Guy Nicholson of the Tennessee Highway Patrol said, "The bus was on the wrong side of the road at the time of the accident. It hasn't been determined why."

Dan Blocker Dies At 43

Television Star Suffers Blood Clots

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dan Blocker, whose portrayal of the gentle, hulking Hoss Cartwright on the "Bonanza" television series made him one of America's best known actors, will be buried in the small Texas town where he grew up.

Blocker died Saturday of two blood clots in the lung. He was 43.

A family spokesman said Blocker developed an infection after undergoing gall bladder surgery May 1. He died a few hours after being readmitted to a hospital.

Tentative plans call for the 300-pound, 6-foot-4 inch actor to be buried beside his father this week in O'Donnell, Tex.

Blocker's bulk and West Texas drawl disguised his being a millionaire and former school teacher. But his friends said the broad humor and tenderness he displayed before 400 million viewers in 80 countries for 13 years as a son of Ben Cartwright on the Ponderosa Ranch were characteristic of the man.

Julian Goodman, president of NBC, which televises the Western series, recalled that Blocker was "a man of great energy, but he was a gentleman who refused to allow his sons to own a gun or go hunting—until the animals learn to shoot back."

Blocker once said the amount of money he made ($30,000 for each "Bonanza" episode) was "absolutely immoral." And of devoting most of his career to one part he once remarked, "Let's face it. I sold out. For money."

After college in Texas, Blocker served as an Army first sergeant ("I was in combat in Korea for four weeks before they sent me GI boots my size"—14½), taught in New Mexico and then began work on a doctorate in education at UCLA.

U.S. Returns Okinawa To Japan

TOKYO (AP) — The United States returned Okinawa to Japan today and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said the transfer opened a new era of full partnership between the two countries that fought the last great battle of World War II on the island.

Ending 27 years of American occupation, the 73 islands and one million inhabitants of Okinawa and the Ryukyus archipelago reverted to Japanese rule at one minute after midnight to the din of sirens, whistles and horns in the area.

Ten hours later, Agnew read President Nixon's proclamation of the turnover at a subdued Tokyo ceremony attended by Emperor Hirohito, a moist-eyed Prime Minister Eisaku Sato and other Japanese leaders.

Reversion took place against a background of protest and threatened demonstration against the continued presence of U.S. military forces in Okinawa. The Tokyo ceremony was boycotted by the opposition Socialist party and by deputies who will represent the restored prefecture, or state, of Okinawa in the Japanese parliament.

Agnew said the transfer "re-solves the last major issue of the war," ends one era and begins a new one.

Agnew told the audience of 8,000 in the Budokan, Tokyo's hall of martial arts, that "we place the highest value on our relations with Japan."

The audience stood during a speech by Emperor Hirohito, in whose name 110,000 Japanese soldiers died defending Okinawa 27 years ago.

He said the return of the islands was "the long-cherished desire of the people" and voiced deep gratification over friendly relations between Japan and America.

Mayor Daley 70 Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard J. Daley, celebrating his 70th birthday today, begins the day with a trip to the basement of his suburban Bridgeview home to lift weights, skip rope, ride an exercise bicycle and work out with a punching bag.

"Anyone who doesn't do this had better not get out of bed," he says.

Then he will go to the office where he's worked since 1955, as mayor of Chicago and leader of the powerful Democratic party organization.

Daley said that when he first entered the mayor's office 17 years ago a physician told him "exercise is just great."

"Exercise, you know, is responsible for my good health," he told reporters. "You should be in my basement—jumping rope, punching the bag, lifting weights..."

South Viets Reoccupy Fire Base

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces reoccupied Fire Base Bastogne 12 miles west of Hue today after 36 hours of fierce fighting and B52 saturation strikes, field reports said.

The base fell to the North Vietnamese April 28. The counterattack that retook it was the second on the northern front in three days by South Vietnamese forces who in six weeks of setbacks had retreated 30 miles below the demilitarized zone and given up the provincial Capital of Quang Tri City.

Associated Press correspondent Peter Arnett reported from the northern front that South Vietnamese infantrymen were only a stone's throw from another important fire base called checkmate on a hill overlooking Bastogne.

In the central highlands, North Vietnamese forces made fresh probes during the night of the defenses of Kontum City, and sources said they believed them to be preliminary to an all-out assault.

On the southern front, enemy forces cut the Saigon-Phnom Penh highway 25 miles northwest of the South Vietnamese capital, and heavy fighting was reported near Trang Bang, a district town.

North Vietnamese gunners rained 2,500 artillery, rocket and mortar shells on An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon, continuing a 6½-week old siege, and light ground fighting was reported. The North Vietnamese were reported still holding sections of the northern part of the city.

The South Vietnamese command said the drive to Fire Base Bastogne was part of a plan to enlarge defense lines around Hue.

The drive to Bastogne and Checkmate was made by 2,000 South Vietnamese infantrymen. Helicopters took some of them to the ridge lines. Others advanced on foot behind a shield of artillery and strikes by U.S. B52 bombers and fighter-bombers.

On the central front, North Vietnamese troops destroyed two culverts on Highway 19, leading from the coast to the highlands, and cut the road 15 miles east of Pleiku.

U.S. officials said American planes had knocked out the Dragon's Jaw bridge at Thanh Hoa, 80 miles south of Hanoi, wrecked several spans of the Paul Doumer road and railroad across the Red River bridge at Hanoi, and cut the northeast and northwest rail lines between the North Vietnamese capital and China.

In Cambodia, government troops abandoned one of their last positions near the South Vietnamese border in the southern portion of Takeo Province, the military command reported.

Kirivong, 65 miles south of Phnom Penh, is the 12th town in Takeo and Kampot provinces to fall to enemy attacks in less than two weeks.

Storm Causes Heavy Damage In Tennessee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Violent weather churned up by widespread rain and thundershowers dominated the eastern half of the nation today.

At least 14 persons were injured Sunday as a series of thundershowers and tornadoes struck the Indianapolis area and headed northeastward through Indiana. The major damage was reported on the east side of Indianapolis, where a twister flattened 26 houses, most of which were either unoccupied or still under construction. Another funnel which touched down at Anderson, Ind., destroyed two mobile homes and damaged nine houses.

A violent thundershow did considerable damage about 30 miles northeast of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Heavy peltings of large hailstones were reported in areas of Ohio and South Carolina. Heavy rain, hail and strong winds were common to much of Ohio Sunday as a low pressure system moved across the Midwest toward the state.

Tornado and severe weather watches were up in western portions of the state most of the day.

Golf ball size hail fell at Versailles in Darke County and three-quarter inch hail was reported at Anderson in Ashtabula County near the Pennsylvania border.

One tornado was sighted in northwestern Ohio, but did not touch down.

The tornado watch was lifted at 6 p.m. Sunday, and the severe weather watch was cancelled five hours later.

The National Weather Service said scattered thundershowers can be expected across the state until the low pressure system now west of Ohio moves across the state early Tuesday. A few thundershowers and showers were reported in the Northwest, but weather in other parts of the nation was generally pleasant.

The state of California was sliced down the middle by a sharp temperature contrast Sunday, with the interior areas experiencing readings over 100 degrees, but highs only in the 50s along the northern coast.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 32 degrees at Flagstaff, Ariz., to 81 degrees at Bakersfield, Calif.

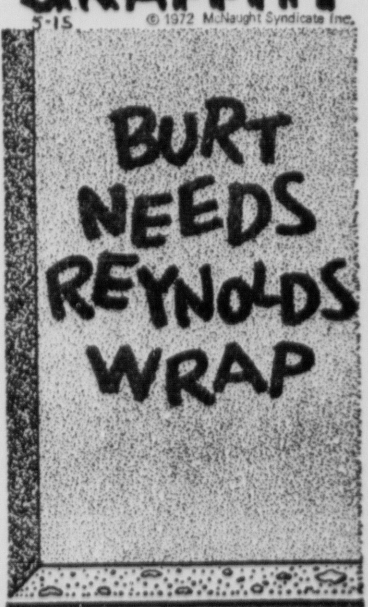

Addict Registry Plan Attacked

BALTIMORE (AP)—The first nationwide conference on methadone maintenance has condemned government attempts to establish a central registry of addicts.

Some 375 physicians, counselors and drug addiction treatment administrators Sunday concluded two days of often stormy debate with a resolution denouncing the central registry concept advanced by President Nixon's chief drug abuse administrator, Jerome K. Jaffe.

The conference, sponsored by Antioch College, assailed Jaffe's plan to establish a computerized registry of addicts' footprints as "fascist."

Continued Antiwar Protests Include 5 - Minute Vigil

Organizers called for a five-minute silent antiwar vigil today on the nation's college campuses as a week of protests against the new U.S. moves in Vietnam came to an end.

Both the size and number of demonstrations tapered off Sunday after five days of the most widespread protests since 1970 led to scattered violence and more than 1,000 arrests.

At Kent State University, where four students were killed by National Guardsmen during the 1970 protests, organizers said today's 11 a.m. vigil has gained acceptance at schools across the country.

Antiwar groups at Stanford University, the University of California at Berkeley, San Francisco State College and San Jose State College were among those planning to participate in the vigil. About 250 persons marched from Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., to the city's Selective Service headquarters. Despite rain about 230 persons took part in an antiwar march in Madison, Wis.

Polar Ice Melting, Expert Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arctic specialist Bernt Balchen says a general warming trend over the North Pole is melting the polar ice cap and may produce an ice-free Arctic Ocean by the year 2,000.

The gradual change in climate, Balchen says, eventually may make possible tanker shipment of oil from Alaskan and Canadian fields, and pave the way for water transport of the Far North's mineral wealth of uranium, nickel, iron, lead and zinc.

Balchen, 72, is recognized as a leading specialist on the Arctic. Forty-seven years ago he was a pilot-engineer with Norway's famous arctic explorer, Roald Aundsen and in 1929 he flew Adm. Richard E. Byrd on the first crossing of the South Pole.

Weather across the northern half of the United States would be 20 to 25 degrees warmer than it is now, Balchen said.

"The central part of the United States would get dry winters, with a large water deficiency. The southern region—Florida, the area between 15 and 30 degrees north latitude—would have it 10 degrees cooler in winter," he said.

Assembly Takes Up School Aid, Property Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio House resumes its efforts today to find a constitutional way to use state money to help keep non-public schools operating.

The House Health, Education and Welfare Committee meets tonight to open hearings on a bill that would give state income, sales tax and local property tax credits to parents of non-public school children.

Gov. John J. Gilligan has so to survive any court challenge on grounds that giving parochial school parents a tax break discriminates against other taxpayers.

The General Assembly has already appropriated more than $60 million for subsidies to be paid to non-public school parents, but a federal court in Columbus ruled the subsidy program unconstitutional.

Ohio American Civil Liberties Union director Benson Wolman, who filed the earlier court challenge, said Murdock's bill is also unconstitutional.

The General Assembly will also be taking up the question of real estate and how to tax it this week.

Senate leaders are predicting a vote, possibly Wednesday, on legislation to override a 1971 Board of Tax Appeals ruling ordering county auditors to begin uniform property tax assessments this year.

The bill would permit counties to adopt uniform appraisal and assessment standards over the course of the next six years after having completed their regular reappraisal of land values.

Ohio's 88 counties are required to conduct a reappraisal every six years, but on a staggered basis.

The rest of the request, $1.41 billion, would go for development and humanitarian assistance, including $43 million for narcotics control and $30 million for contingency situations.

Of the $844 million in security-supporting assistance, about 85 per cent is earmarked for East Asia: $585 million for South Vietnam, $75 million for Cambodia, $49.8 million for Laos, $25.6 million for Thailand and $5.4 million for regional assistance.

The military aid portion of the foreign assistance program totals $2.15 billion, including $844 million for security-supporting assistance and $1.31 billion for military assistance, military sales and administrative costs.

Primaries Set In Maryland And Michigan

AP Political Writer
Sen. George McGovern, buoyed by enthusiastic crowds in four Michigan cities, says "it's just conceivable we can pull an upset" in Tuesday's Democratic presidential primary.

The South Dakota senator had the Michigan stage to himself for today's campaign wind-up as his two major opponents, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, concentrated on Maryland where a primary is also being held Tuesday.

Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York also planned to campaign in Michigan.

Humphrey will spend the day in the Baltimore area, while Wallace campaigns in Washington suburbs and Annapolis.

Wallace, in his strongest campaign bid so far in the North, is generally expected to run first in both Michigan and Maryland and perhaps win a sizable majority of Maryland's 53 delegates.

While the presidential candidates concentrated on Tuesday's primaries, a number of states proceeded over the weekend with their selection of delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

In Louisiana, eight congressional district caucuses picked 29 uncommitted delegates, eight for McGovern and three for Wallace. Sixteen of the 40 delegates are black. Four more delegates will be chosen June 9.

In Kansas, McGovern won 12 delegates and his backers claimed four more among 18 listed officially as uncommitted. Five more will be picked June 10.

In Tennessee, 29 of the 40 delegates picked Saturday said they will follow the primary law and vote for Wallace, who is entitled to all of the state's 49 votes on the first two ballots because of his May 4 primary victory. The other 11 remained publicly uncommitted or said they would vote for someone other than Wallace.

Jury Dismisses Tatman Lawsuit

Nine jurors concurred in awarding judgment in the case to the City of Circleville and dismissed the plaintiff's claims that the city was negligent in failing to repair the traffic signal at the intersection over the Labor Day weekend.

Man Arrested After Police Car Chase, Crash Saturday

County Sheriff's Deputies investigated three accidents over the weekend, one involving a police cruiser and the other two blamed on wet roads. There were no injuries.

Buddy Willis, 30, Columbus, was charged with reckless operation and eluding a police officer by the department after he apparently tried to outrun the South Bloomfield Marshal by attempting to force him into the rear of a semi tractor-trailer rig on Route 23.

Analysts said the strength in the nonblue-chip sector was due partly to speculative buying, or buying among selected issues in special situations.

Investors were buoyed by the conference and news that Kon-tum defenders in South Vietnam had repulsed a Communist attack.

Primaries Set In Maryland And Michigan

Sen. George McGovern, buoyed by enthusiastic crowds in four Michigan cities, says "it's just conceivable we can pull an upset" in Tuesday's Democratic presidential primary.

The South Dakota senator had the Michigan stage to himself for today's campaign wind-up as his two major opponents, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, concentrated on Maryland where a primary is also being held Tuesday.

While the presidential candidates concentrated on Tuesday's primaries, a number of states proceeded over the weekend with their selection of delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

In Louisiana, eight congressional district caucuses picked 29 uncommitted delegates, eight for McGovern and three for Wallace. Sixteen of the 40 delegates are black. Four more delegates will be chosen June 9.

In Kansas, McGovern won 12 delegates and his backers claimed four more among 18 listed officially as uncommitted. Five more will be picked June 10.

In Tennessee, 29 of the 40 delegates picked Saturday said they will follow the primary law and vote for Wallace, who is entitled to all of the state's 49 votes on the first two ballots because of his May 4 primary victory. The other 11 remained publicly uncommitted or said they would vote for someone other than Wallace.

Patrolman L. L. Swiger had arrested the pair for speeding on Route 23 near Route 361 Saturday and while questioning them, spotted a coffee can containing three plastic bags of what appeared to be marijuana.

Swiger called his commander, Lt. Wayne Henry, who upon arriving at the scene, turned the investigation over to Sheriff's Deputies Don Thompson and Mike McGinnis.

Thompson arrested the men for investigation of narcotics and impounded their car.

At the county jail, they agreed to allow a search of the car. Thompson found the marijuana and a pipe on the rear floor.

The men are identified as 21-year-old Raymond Sales and Donald Strode, 20, both of Canton. They were jailed under $500 bond, raised the money and were released pending a hearing in Municipal Court.

Man Arrested After Police Car Chase, Crash Saturday

County Sheriff's Deputies investigated three accidents over the weekend, one involving a police cruiser and the other two blamed on wet roads. There were no injuries.

Buddy Willis, 30, Columbus, was charged with reckless operation and eluding a police officer by the department after he apparently tried to outrun the South Bloomfield Marshal by attempting to force him into the rear of a semi tractor-trailer rig on Route 23.

Marshal Horace Clay told deputies he had issued a citation to Willis about 8 p.m. Sunday for driving through a red light in the town.

Willis, claiming he posted $55 bond and received a receipt for only $20 called the village mayor, who in turn, contacted Clay.

CLAY drove his cruiser north on Route 23 trying to catch Willis to verify his story, but Willis would not pull to the side of the road.

Clay said he activated his siren and red light, but Willis, driving in the passing lane, would still not pull over.

Clay apparently continued the chase, pulling beside Willis' car in the right lane, until he was blocked in by a tractor-trailer rig in his lane.

He said Willis apparently veered to the right, grazing the police cruiser, and continued north on Route 23 for about a mile.

Neither car sustained heavy damage.

Two other wrecks, both occurring Saturday during driving rain showers, were investigated by the department.

NO one was injured 4:10 p.m. Saturday when a car, driving westbound on Route 22 at Route 23, spun out of control on the slick road and crashed into a guard rail.

The other accident occurred 8:25 p.m. Saturday when a car again spun out of control on slippery pavement and ran into a sign post on the Circleville-Stoutsville Road and Winchester Road.

Four Thefts Investigated

Sheriff's Deputies are investigating four theft complaints filed during the weekend, including a stolen car report.

Lonnie Butler, Route 3, Ironton, told deputies he parked his car, bearing Kentucky registration, at a bar in South Bloomfield early Sunday morning. When he returned, the car was missing.

Walter Griffith, Tarlton, said that $233 worth of carpenter tools were taken from his locked car parked in front of his house at German St. and Elizabeth St. Friday night.

John Seymour Jr., Laurelvale, said his car broke down at Route 56 and Route 159 Saturday afternoon. He claimed he locked the vehicle but when he returned Sunday morning a tape player and stereo-tapes valued at $137 were missing.

James Valentine, Route 1, Ashville, said thieves took a hand-type water pump valued at $5 Friday afternoon.

Meany Rips Job Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany today criticized economic policies which make workers' jobs "little more than pawns manipulated by corporate and governmental money managers."

"Today, the worker and his job are being openly bartered with disastrous consequences," Meany told the Democratic Platform Committee in presenting the AFL-CIO's "program for America."

"The only policy that makes any sense is one that increases employment, rather than unemployment," he continued in a statement which will also be presented to Republican platform writers.

If jobs are not forthcoming in the private sector, he said, "then the government must assume the obligation of being the employer of last resort."

The foremost goal of the AFL-CIO, he said, is the "rejection of unemployment as an instrument of national policy."

Klein Raps Demo Solons On Viet War

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — A Nixon administration official said Friday the reactions by Senate critics to President Nixon's proposals for peace in Vietnam are out of tune with the American people.

Herbert Klein, director of communications, told the South Dakota Press Association that the two leading Democratic presidential candidates, Sens. George McGovern and Hubert Humphrey, are "at the heart of the problem."

"Their contribution to world peace comes in the form of daily criticism without any offer of equitable alternatives or better solutions to the complex problem," he said.

Klein said that the "overwhelming public support" being given to the President and his efforts to end the war is both heartening and helpful to the support of peace and that the "knee-jerk criticism" in the Senate is harmful to efforts to bring the war to an end.

He said that if peace efforts fail, there will be opportunity for criticism following the Democratic convention in July.

Klein challenged McGovern and Humphrey to offer counterplans to gain the release of American prisoners of war.

"The message they seem to be sending is to pull out precipitously, and then assume the North Vietnamese will release our men. Are they so naive they really believe in such good faith by the North Vietnamese?" he said.

Ford Denies Suppressing Corvair Film

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II, board chairman of the Ford Motor Co., Sunday labeled as "completely false" charges by auto critic Ralph Nader that Ford suppressed poor test results of the Chevrolet Corvair.

Nader displayed last Friday 1959 Ford Motor Co. films showing the Corvair skidding out of control while trying to keep up with a Ford Falcon.

Nader said the films debunked General Motors' description of the Corvair's handling ability but also blasted Ford for not making the films public.

"If a corporation finds a defect in a competitive product, they have a duty to inform the public," Nader said.

Ford said Nader's charge that he refused to tout the advantages of the 1960 Falcon over the Corvair were false, adding:

"The fact is that the engineering and styling features of the Falcon were promoted to the hilt. It is absurd to think that anything else would have been the case."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Husband's Happiness At Stake

DEAR ABBY: Since my husband retired nearly a year ago, he has started one project after another; but he hasn't finished any of them.

First, he thought it would be nice if we had a vegetable garden, so he dug up the backyard and bought all kinds of seeds however, he never got around to planting anything. (You can imagine what our backyard looks like!)

Then he decided we needed a patio, so he bought a truckload of sand and a load of bricks. It's been three months, and the bricks and sand are still piled on our back porch, and he hasn't started to "build" anything yet.

Now he is gathering equipment for a woodwork shop in our basement! Abby, he is such a dear man who has really earned his retirement, but all he does is read "How To" books and whistle as he takes off for the hardware store to do some shopping.

I hate to nag him, but what can I do?

GOING CRAZY

DEAR CRAZY: Look at it this way: you have a cow pasture for a backyard, a pile of bricks and sand on your back porch, and a collection of woodwork equipment in your basement. But you have a husband who is alive, retired, and happy as a lark. If the unfinished projects annoy you, either quietly hire to have them finished, or whistle as you walk around them.

DEAR ABBY: I hope LOWSLUNG IN BROOKLYN got a lift from your letter telling her that plastic surgeons can actually lift a person's behind. I know I did.

And while we are in the general area, I wonder if your readers know that there are false fannies on the market for women who are flat in back? I should know; I've been wearing one for years.

If you use my letter please don't use my real name. Make up one.

MRS. X

DEAR MRS. X: How about "SITTING PRETTY?" Or "MRS. BUTTINSKY?" (Sorry, but you really backed into that one.)

DEAR ABBY: Even 2,000 horticulturists can be wrong if they tell you that begonias can be grown only in moist, tropical climates.

We grow huge, lovely begonias in Anchorage, Alaska. And I mean out of doors in the summer. Because of our long day-light hours and the absence of intense heat, our begonias are probably the most beautiful anywhere in the world.

MRS. L.A. IN ANCHORAGE
DEAR MRS. L.A.: Many other who read me in Anchorage Times wrote to tell about their gorgeous begonias. But more surprising was a letter from Dorothy Pearson advising me that HER begonias were blooming profusely in hot, dry Concordia, Kansas!

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago I went to visit a nephew who lives in another city. While there, I attended church with him. When the collection plate was passed, my nephew took a five-dollar bill from his wallet, placed it on the collection plate, then took two one dollar bills from the collection plate and placed them in his wallet! I was shocked.

Abby, I had never seen anyone "make change" from a collection plate before. Is this proper?

SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: Why not? Far better put in five and take out two than to put in nothing because he had only a fiver, which may have been beyond his budget.

IW said May steel deliveries in the automotive industry are expected to match or exceed those of April and that the demand from the farm, appliance, construction and container industries was steadily improving.

However, the magazine said that how much the domestic steel industry benefits from anticipated consumption growth depends on the level of steel imports this year.

Industry Week said steel-makers are generally pleased with the three-year quota agreements reached with European and Japanese mills. The quotas are expected to limit 1972 imports to 16.5 million tons compared to last year's import total of 18.3 million tons. The pact also set an annual growth rate of 2 1/2 per cent compared to the 5 per cent growth rate in the previous three-year agreement.

The magazine estimated raw steel production for the week ended May 13 at 2,710,000 net tons compared with 2,708,000 net tons turned out by mills the previous week.

IW's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting steelmaking scrap rose to its highest point since March — $35.83 compared to $35.50.

Business Council Expects New Inflationary Surge

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — Big business is advising the Nixon administration to start pulling the brakes on government spending and easy credit to avoid a possible resurgence of inflation in 1973.

Members of the Business Council, attending their spring meeting with administration officials, were cheered by predictions of a strong and broadly based business expansion well into next year. But R.V. Hansberger, chairman of the council's committee on the domestic economy warned that inflation may revive a few months from now.

"We should start building some restraints pretty darn soon," Hansberger told reporters.

The industrialist said that the council's advisory panel of 20 business economists—which sent a report to the session Friday suggesting that the speed-up of inflation will take place later this year and in 1973—is especially concerned over the prospective growing federal deficit in the second half of this year.

This prospect, combined with the present policy of holding down interest rates to encourage business borrowing, may cause a buildup of pressure against the Phase II controls, Hansberger said.

The administration's economic planning has gone awry in several respects. It had scheduled heavy deficit spending in the first half of this year as a deliberate economic tonic, to be followed by a cutback in the second half of the year. The government has been unable to spend as much money as it had anticipated, and had unintentionally collected billions of dollars in taxes more than predicted because of the steep new schedules of tax withholding.

The result apparently will be that much of the spending stimulus that was designed for this spring will be postponed to the second half of this year, and will be reinforced in early 1973 by extra large tax refunds.

Hansberger said council members generally agreed with the professional economists that policies of the Price Commission have caused uncertainty and need clarification and continuity.

The council's closed sessions end today. Chairman Herbert Stein of the Council of Economic Advisers and Secretary of State William P. Rogers were among the scheduled speakers.

Saturday afternoon the Circleville Boys Choir attended the movie "Fiddler On The Roof" in Columbus.

This trip was the final one for the boys this current singing year. Donations from performances made the trip possible.

Escorting the choir were: Mrs. Robert Rustin, Mrs. Robert Jacobs, Miss Karen Foster, and Paul Dunkle, director of the choir.

Last week the choir performed for the Calvary Methodist Church and for the Masonic Lodge at Frankfort. The choir will end the 1971-72 season this Sunday with a concert at the Community Methodist Church beginning at 3 p.m. The concert is open to the public and will feature a varied program of music.

One of the interesting points about the current political scene in the United States is that while much attention has been directed to the newly franchised under 21 voter, it is the over-65 segment of the population which is expanding most rapidly and exerting increasing influence.

While the turnout of youthful voters in registration and voting drives thus far has been poor, that is not the case with the older citizens. They have one of the most consistently high turnouts at the polls of any age group.

One of the 10 Americans now falls into the over-65 group, and the increase is continuing. And they are organizing. Of the 20 million persons over age 65, 3.7 million are members of either the American Association of Retired Persons or the National Retired Teachers Association.

Both of these groups actively pursue the interests of their members. That is a fact which could produce some interesting revelations at the polls this year.

Diplomatic Lib

One fact of corporate life is that a man's advancement often depends on how advanced his wife is in creating the climate in which he can shine in her reflected glory.

In the Foreign Service some wives now are apparently liberated, according to a recent State Department order eliminating an unwritten fringe benefit accruing to wives of senior officers. Some of these, it seems, exercised the prerogatives of their husbands' rank by imposing on young wives in overseas diplomatic posts.

If the younger women were concerned about the advancement of their junior-officer-husbands they might find themselves doing an older woman's laundry, preparing sandwiches for her embassy receptions and otherwise responding to whims entrenched by tradition.

According to new guidelines, older women in point of service will now have to fend for themselves. Hereafter, young Foreign Service wives are to be regarded as private individuals not subject to chattel mortgage.

The ruling reveals what had been unsuspected inequity, but really suggests that Foreign Service officers will continue to rise and shine as much on their wives' performances as on their own.

Slogans Don't Favor Nixon

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

As preparations continue for his Moscow Mission, President Nixon is evidently convinced that only a diplomacy of the act is apt to impress the Soviet totalitarians. The Communist May Day slogans, as analyzed by Radio Liberty's Christian Duevel, show no willingness on the part of the Muscovite Marxists to make it easy for the United States to withdraw from Southeast Asia without flinching on the South Vietnamese.

On the other hand, the slogan addressed to the peoples of Western Europe is propitiatory. The foreign policy of the Kremlin thus remains unaltered: keep the European front pacified, but let the hell-raising go on throughout the so-called Third World and the Middle East.

The May Day slogan on Indochina, according to Mr. Duevel, has been sharpened. Not only does it call on the U.S. for "complete and unconditional withdrawal from South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia," which is an old demand; it also insists that the U.S. desist from bombing the North and stop the shelling from the sea. Coupled with the Soviet dispatching of tanks and other sophisticated weapons to the North Vietnamese, the forensic belligerence in th May Day Indochinese slogan portends no willingness whatsoever on the part of Moscow to serve as an honest broker between Washington and Hanoi.

As for the slogan addressed to Europe, there has been a subtle change. Last October the published version, using a tougher approach than in earlier 1971, called for a more active struggle in Western Europe for peaceful cooperation between "peoples." This could be interpreted as ignoring the heads of governments. The new slogan drops the mention of "peoples" and asks for a "struggle for the transformation of the European continent into an area of lasting peace, security, and fruitful cooperation between states." Thus the Kremlin signals that it is willing for the moment to accept all varieties of government in Western Europe, from social democratic Sweden to dictatorial Spain, provided they don't make trouble for the Communists in other parts of the world. As Mr. Duevel sees it, Moscow is making "An apparent semantic effort to stress the National Division of the continent rather than its unitarian spirations."

Without being willing to be just as tough as Brezhnev, Richard Nixon could never hope to combat the reality mirrored in the Bolshevik May Day slogans. If we weakened in our Vietnam stand to the extent of withdrawing our air support, where would Europe itself be? The Soviets, in their future May Day slogans, might not be so lenient toward the states' of Western Europe if the U.S. had been exposed as a toothless friend.

Even if Nixon does salvage an agreement on nuclear arms during his Moscow trip, Western Europe won't get any particular advantage from it. Assuming there is to be no nuclear war, the balance of armed forces in Europe is in favor for the Soviets and their Warsaw Pact allies.

There are now 1,345,000 Warsaw Pact Troops in Europe, 700,000 of which are Russian. NATO has 1,105,000, which makes it statistically inferior. The Warsaw Pact armies have 21,700 tanks, a three-fold advantage over NATO's 7,750. In the air, the Warsaw Pact forces dispose of 5,360 tactical aircraft as compared to NATO's 2,850.

If disarmament is to have any practical meaning, there should be conversations about those 21,700 tanks and that two-to-one tactical air superiority as well as about nuclear weapons. Look at what the preponderance of tanks has done for the North Vietnamese in their early offensives despite their lack of an air arm capable of dealing with U.S. tactical air weapons.

Of course, the quality of the NATO troops and armament may compensate for numerical inferiority. But the quality of men depends on their trust in leadership. If Nixon were to surrender in Moscow on Vietnam, what British or Western European soldier in the service of NATO would trust the word of the U.S. on West Berlin?

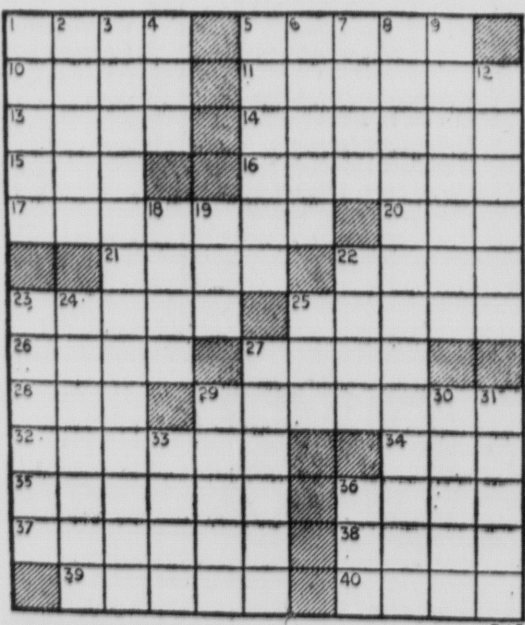

The U.S. doesn't go in for May Day slogans. They would not consort well with our form of government, which assumes that policy must always be open to argument but if Nixon doesn't have his own certainties to take to Moscow in this May of 1972 may the Lord preserve us from the Communist May Day slogans of 1973 and 1974. They would be calling then for a Communist-dominated Warsaw Pact for the whole of Europe and for the banishment of the U.S. from the affairs of the Old World forever.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Some of my friends at college constantly talk about "biofeedback."

According to them, it's the science of the future. What do doctors think of this new idea?

Mr. T.J.F., Colo.

Dear Mr. F.: The relatively new science of biofeedback is indeed exciting. Every new scientific concept is important. But there always are groups of people who become overenthusiastic supporters of a new idea and become part of the avant garde. Mature students wait for studies to be verified before going overboard with new trends.

Biofeedback can loosely be described as a studied technique by which the human being control involuntary functions of the body. This might include control over the heart beat, the body temperature, reactions to pain, diminished responses to fear and anxiety, and even the circulatory system.

Just as electrical vibrations of the heart can be studied with an electrocardiogram, so can electrical vibrations of the brain be studied with an electroencephalogram.

With the latter, or the EEG, wave patterns known as "alpha," "beta," and "theta" waves are important in the diagnosis of epilepsy, brain tumors, and other conditions.

Groups of other waves, "alpha," "beta," and "theta" waves, can be brought under a person's control with special training.

A number of biofeedback machines are now available by which the control of these waves can be studied.

Within the framework of biofeedback training, lies considerable promise for significant control of the physical and emotional functions of the body. It is said that severe migraine, tension headaches, some cases of high blood pressure, insomnia, and even asthmatic attacks may eventually be modified by the newer knowledge of biofeedback.

I must issue a very special note of warning. "Biofeedback" "schools" and "experts" are cropping up everywhere. Many of these are another form of exploitation of the gullible.

The greatest danger of "treatment" by "specialists" in the new science is that there is a delay in bringing emotional and physical problems to the proper attention of physicians and psychiatrists.

Biofeedback is not a game. It is not a fun fad. It is a serious concept that should be used only by highly trained experts.

Can you send me a list of the plastic surgeons in North Carolina?

Mrs. J. M., N.C.

Dear Mrs. M.: I cannot send you such a list. It would be doing you a great injustice if I did. Finding a specialist in any field of surgery or medicine must be done through your own doctor. His reliability and good judgment, based on his experience with specialists in all fields, are your greatest assurance of physical and emotional health.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Sometimes I wish everybody lived in a small town instead of an ant swarm like this," said Jack, one of the genial countermen in a Manhattan drugstore lunchette.

"Then I wouldn't have trouble like I did with Fred," he said, and then told this tale:

"Fred's one of the nicest customers I got. Big job, but real friendly guy. Been drinking his coffee here for years. A month ago I mentioned to Fred that on the way home I'd dropped into a cocktail bar lounge on First Avenue the night before and seen him sitting in a corner having drinks with one of the pretty girls in his office."

"Don't wreck my reputation, Jack," he said. "It couldn't have been me. I do all my drinking at home."

"I kind of thought I had worried him, so when he came in the next day I whispered to him:

"Don't give it a second thought about me seeing you with that young dame over on First Avenue. I'd never tell anybody about it. I'm your pal."

"Thanks a lot," he said. "But I'm not the guy you saw. It must be a case of mistaken identity."

"Well, that could be," I told him. "I really recognized the girl, but I only saw the back of the guy's head."

"Overnight I got to thinking over the matter and realized I was wrong in at least one respect: When Fred came in the next day, I said:

"Maybe I can clear up that thing we were talking about. I was wrong about it being on First Avenue. It happened in a bar on Second Avenue. Does that stir anything in your memory?"

"Well, Fred really surprised me. He got all upset. He asked what in hell was the matter with me, and wanted to know why I was trying to start ugly rumors about him, and said he had never been in a bar with a single girl since he got married five years ago, and that if he ever did want to play tomcat it wouldn't be with any girl who worked with him in the same office. Then he got up and went out without leaving his usual dime tip."

"When Fred came in the next day and I tried to straighten the whole thing out with him, he went by me without saying a word and sat down two counters."

"He hasn't sat at my counter since. Every once in a while when he gets up to leave, he calls over and says, 'Well, who are you slicing up today, Jack?' Then he walks off before I can say anything. I guess I've lost a friend."

"I still don't know for sure whether the guy I saw was Fred or not."

"Anyway, like I said, if we all lived in a small town I wouldn't have had this trouble with Fred. In a big city like New York there can be two dozen people who look exactly like you going around doing things you wouldn't be caught dead doing, but you wind up anyway getting the credit for doing them."

"In a small town nobody would look like Fred. In a small town nobody looks like nobody else."

Within the framework of biofeedback training, lies considerable promise for significant control of the physical and emotional functions of the body.

It is said that severe migraine, tension headaches, some cases of high blood pressure, insomnia, and even asthmatic attacks may eventually be modified by the newer knowledge of biofeedback.

I must issue a very special note of warning. "Biofeedback schools" and "experts" are cropping up everywhere. Many of these are another form of exploitation of the gullible.

The greatest danger of "treatment" by "specialists" in the new science is that there is a delay in bringing emotional and physical problems to the proper attention of physicians and psychiatrists.

Biofeedback is not a game. It is not a fun fad. It is a serious concept that should be used only by highly trained experts.

Can you send me a list of the plastic surgeons in North Carolina?

Mrs. J. M., N.C.

Dear Mrs. M.: I cannot send you such a list. It would be doing you a great injustice if I did.

Finding a specialist in any field of surgery or medicine must be done through your own doctor. His reliability and good judgment, based on his experience with specialists in all fields, are your greatest assurance of physical and emotional health.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Sometimes I wish everybody lived in a small town instead of an ant swarm like this," said Jack, one of the genial countermen in a Manhattan drugstore luncheonette.

"Then I wouldn't have trouble like I did with Fred," he said, and then told this tale:

"Fred's one of the nicest customers I got. Big job, but real friendly guy. Been drinking his coffee here for years. A month ago I mentioned to Fred that on the way home I'd dropped into a cocktail bar lounge on First Avenue the night before and seen him sitting in a corner having drinks with one of the pretty girls in his office."

"Don't wreck my reputation, Jack," he said. "It couldn't have been me. I do all my drinking at home."

"I kind of thought I had worried him, so when he came in the next day I whispered to him:

"Don't give it a second thought about me seeing you with that young dame over on First Avenue. I'd never tell anybody about it. I'm your pal."

"Thanks a lot," he said. "But I'm not the guy you saw. It must be a case of mistaken identity."

"Well, that could be," I told him. "I really recognized the girl, but I only saw the back of the guy's head."

"Overnight I got to thinking over the matter and realized I was wrong in at least one respect: When Fred came in the next day, I said:

"Maybe I can clear up that thing we were talking about. I was wrong about it being on First Avenue. It happened in a bar on Second Avenue. Does that stir anything in your memory?"

"Well, Fred really surprised me. He got all upset. He asked what in hell was the matter with me, and wanted to know why I was trying to start ugly rumors about him, and said he had never been in a bar with a single girl since he got married five years ago, and that if he ever did want to play tomat it wouldn't be with any girl who worked with him in the same office. Then he got up and went out without leaving his usual dime tip."

"When Fred came in the next day and I tried to straighten the whole thing out with him, he went by me without saying a word and sat down two counters."

"He hasn't sat at my counter since. Every once in a while when he gets up to leave, he calls over and says, 'Well, who are you slicing up today, Jack?' Then he walks off before I can say anything. I guess I've lost a friend."

"I still don't know for sure whether the guy I saw was Fred or not."

"Anyway, like I said, if we all lived in a small town I wouldn't have had this trouble with Fred. In a big city like New York there can be two dozen people who look exactly like you going around doing things you wouldn't be caught dead doing, but you wind up anyway getting the credit for doing them."

"In a small town nobody would look like Fred. In a small town nobody looks like nobody else."

Members of the Circleville Jaycees unanimously approved a motion to establish an "Airport Building Fund" for Pickaway County. The Jaycees backed up their decision by pledging $1,000 to launch the fund.

Owners announced plans to re-open Bingham's Drugs. The building had been destroyed by a tragic explosion and fire on April 15.

Common Pleas Judge William Ammer was selected to represent the Ohio State Bar Association at a conference on crime control in Washington D. C.

The concrete base for the monument and flag pole was poured just north of the City Building. The project was undertaken by the Fraternal Order of Police to honor deceased members of the Circleville Police Department.

Keith Merrin, Logan Elm's head basketball coach and athletic director since the inception of the school, resigned to accept a similar post at Delaware Hayes High School.

Rainy weather slowed spring planting in Pickaway County. Bob Bowers, of the Pickaway Soil Conservation office termed the situation critical. He stated that less than 10 per cent of the corn crop had been planted compared to a normal planting of 75 per cent by mid-May.

An errant driver was cited on four traffic violations in Circleville Municipal Court and handed fines of $700 and costs plus 180 days in jail.

Circleville romped to its second consecutive South Central Ohio League track championship with a total of 81½ points to outdistance second place Washington C. H. with 55 points.

The owner of a local hamburger and sandwich shop believed his cuisine had therapeutic value. It seems a man on a pair of crutches entered his shop, ate two hamburgers and walked out, leaving his crutches behind.

Circleville's park and recreation program added two additional parks in the city. Recreational areas were established on Maplewood Ave. and in Garden City.

Bob Tootle, Steve McGinnis and Richard Cree were selected by American Legion Hall-Adkins Post 134 and BPO Eks Lodge 77 to attend the Buckeye Boys' State at Ohio University.

SERENE FACE — A shining bright look is the serene face. Blushing powder lends a healthy glow. Shadow enhances the eyes and a peach shade brightens lips.

Makeup Artist Creates A Colorful New Look

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Serene is a beautiful word. It means clear and free of storms or shining bright. When applied to a woman, the first definition bespeaks her inner calm, her lack of tension and temperament. The second, suggesting a great way to look, is what Nicholas of Charles of the Ritz had in mind when he created a new look, the Serene Face.

"The Serene Face starts from within," Nicholas said. "I am emphasizing it with clear vibrant makeup shades that give the face a shining bright look."

Nicholas likes eyes to look a slant Oriental. He achieves the effect by applying see-through shadow in a straight line across the entire lid. This elongates the eye. A curve of dark transparent shadow is worn under the brow.

He gives skin a porcelain finish with light, medium or deep beige liquid cream makeup. This makes a neutral background for blushing powder in bright see-through shades of Pinkamber, Coraldust or Rosetone.

"The blusher," Nicholas said, "is not just for cheeks. It can be worn on chin, temple and across the forehead to give the face a healthy glow."

For a well-defined mouth, Nicholas suggests outlining it in coral or brown, then filling in with shimmering shades of pink, peach, orange or ginger.

Women Lawyers To Apply For Jobs As FBI Agents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two women who filed suit against the late J. Edgar Hoover believe many women will take advantage of the bureau's new policy and try to become FBI agents.

Sandra Rothenberg Nemser and Cynthia Gitt, two lawyers, say they will resubmit applications to become agents as soon as they can.

"I would say hundreds, if not thousands, will do the same," said Mrs. Nemser, a 29-year-old Denver poverty lawyer married to a physician. "I'm glad the FBI will now follow the federal law."

Mrs. Cynthia Gitt, a 25-year-old attorney for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, also said there would be many women applying to become FBI agents.

"After we filed our suit last summer, I received several letters from women who were denied the opportunity," she said.

L. Patrick Gray III, acting FBI director, announced Friday that the FBI was changing its male-only policy and would seek female applicants for the first time in history.

Hoover vehemently opposed hiring women for the crime investigating jobs because he said the work was too dangerous.

Mrs. Nemser and Gitt said they were never permitted to apply to become special agents because the FBI refused to send them application forms. In answer to their queries, they said, they received letters saying the work was too dangerous.

The American Civil Liberties Union, representing the two women, filed suit in U.S. District Court last June seeking to have Hoover's male-only policy declared unconstitutional.

Gray said in his announcement that existing requirements for the special agent position will remain unchanged, including the intensive 14-week training course.

Clean Up Penn Central Derailment

NEWCOMERTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Clean up operations are continuing near here today following the derailment of 32 cars of a 67-car Penn Central freight train Sunday.

The accident occurred three miles west of the city, tearing up 400 feet of westbound track, 800 feet of eastbound track and another 800 feet of siding.

Wrecking crews began work to restore the track Sunday afternoon. In the meantime, rail traffic is being rerouted around Newcomertown. Officials were unable to say how long the repairs would take.

Some of the derailed cars carried what Penn Central officials called "potentially hazardous chemicals," but were said to pose no immediate threat to area residents.

The Penn Central had chemical experts on the scene Sunday to keep an eye on those cars.

Another chemical car caught fire soon after the accident, but the fire was brought under control. Officials said it, too, did not threaten nearby residents, and no one was evacuated.

Officials were unable to explain why the accident happened. There were no estimates of damage.

VARSITY — New members of the varsity cheering squad at Westfall High School are: seated front, Stephanie Neff,

Jill Long, Pam Williams; back row, Carol Anderson, Mickey Horn, Karen

Fausnaugh. Their duties will begin with the 1972 football season.

RESERVE — Six misses were selected by their classmates and faculty as reserve cheerleaders during the 1972-

Henson, Cindy Schleich; standing, Cathy Alkire, Vicki Skaggs, Lynn Stillings.

Select Cheerleading Squads For '72 Season

Varsity and Jr. Varsity cheerleading tryouts were held April 26 with the voters being the student body and faculty.

Sixteen girls tried out for the Jr. Varsity squad and eleven for Varsity. All of these girls attended three practices set up by Mr. Beck and last year's senior cheerleaders. Everyone was required to learn the same two cheers containing difficult motions and jumps. One cheer was done individually and the other one done in a group.

Results of the try outs were: Cathy Alkire, captain, Janie Henson, Connie Drummond, Cindy Schleich, Lynn Stillings, and Vicki Skaggs for Jr. Varsity.

For the Varsity squad, Carol Anderson, Karen Fausnaugh, Mickey Horn, Jill Long, Stephanie Neff, captain, and Pam Williams. The Varsity squad will be cheering for both football and basketball.

Each girl was asked why she tried out for cheerleader and what her reactions to being selected were.

Cathy Alkire stated she went out for cheerleader because she liked basketball and she loved to cheer. At being selected Cathy said, "I was surprised, excited, and 'out of my mind with happiness!'" Cathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Alkire.

Jane Henson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henson, says "I have always wanted cheerleader, especially now in high school. I didn't think it would ever happen to me!"

Connie Drummond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Drummond, says she tried out for cheerleader because "I was interested in cheering and it would be a challenge and excitement to cheer for our team. I was very excited and I will do my best for the team."

Cindy Schleich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schleich, states, "Being a cheerleader is what I have always wanted to do. I was really scared until they said that I got it then I was shocked. I couldn't believe it but it made me feel good and I will do my very best."

Vicki Skaggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Skaggs says she tried out because "I thought it would be a challenge. I was really happy to be selected."

Lynn Stillings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stillings, says, "I tried out because I think it's a fun and wonderful experience to cheer a team to victory."

Varsity cheerleader Carol Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Anderson, says "I went out for cheerleader because I think it will be fun and exciting. I was really SUPER-SHOCKED!"

For Karen Fausnaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fausnaugh, the reasons is that she really loves to cheer. "I love sports," Karen says,

"And it is also great fun. I was very happy and thrilled." Karen will be a senior next year.

Mickey Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Horn, tells that she went out for cheerleader so that "If I got it," says Mick "I could help school spirit." She will be a junior this fall.

Jill Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Long, says the reason she went out for cheerleader was because she thinks the teams should be supported by spirit of the student body. Jill will be a junior next year.

Stephanie Neff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Neff, answered our questions saying, "I went out for cheerleader because I wanted to help build spirit at the games. When they told me, I was excited, nervous, and surprised." Stephanie (TESS) will be a senior when school starts.

Pam Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Williams, said, "I have always loved sports and cheering and my school. I want to be a part of my school and do everything possible to encourage next year's teams. I was happy, happier and the happiest!" Pam will be a Senior.

Girls' Track Is Tri-Meet Victor

The WHS girls' track team is off and running in fine shape this year. The girls, thanks to some extra practice, have come up with some new records this year.

In a recent tri-meet with Unioto and Laurelville, Westfall received first place. Girls taking first honors in their events were Sandy Peart, shot put; Janet Schleich, 50 yard hurdles; Mickey Horn, 880 yard run; Chris Hansen, 100 yard and 440 yard dash; and Bev McDill, 220 yard dash. Welfare Chiseling Under Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee has adopted new provisions in the Social Security-welfare reform bill in hopes of cutting down on welfare chiseling.

One provision would eliminate a regulation of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare that permits a welfare applicant to get on the rolls simply by filing a declaration of need. Another would require that all welfare cases be investigated thoroughly for eligibility every two years.

A third provision would penalize states which allow large numbers of ineligible to get on their welfare rolls. States which allowed ineligible to exceed 3 per cent of its total caseload would lose one percentage point of federal matching funds for each percentage point of ineligible above 3 per cent.

Do The Best!

Spring fever has inadvertently hit Mustang Country. It's just something that happens when spring shows her first signs of arriving.

This is especially true for this year's graduating seniors whose days are numbered now. Graduation, receptions, parties, and just happenings in general tend to make one ignore what should be done as the number of procrastinators increases.

For underclassmen another tedious year is rapidly coming to a close. The warm weather, bright sunshine, and new flowers make one want to escape from the classroom to enjoy nature as she comes alive once more. The thought of a summer vacation filled with good times comes to mind.

For the teacher who must daily put up with the restless students it is also kind of a chore. The grind is coming to an end though — sooner than one thinks.

As the seniors take one final fling during their high school days, they, as well as others, should make one final effort to finish the year to the best of their ability. The carefree days are coming to an end — sooner than one thinks.

LCI Chief Eyes Training

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — The new superintendent of Lebanon Correctional Institution plans to stress training programs and individualized treatment of inmates.

William Dallman, 29, who has been appointed as superintendent to succeed Charles Van Curen, said Friday that "correctional work is becoming more professional and more cognizant that it has a more important role than keeping people locked up for a few years."

Dallman had been acting superintendent since Van Curen retired April 30. Dallman is the youngest man heading a penal institution in Ohio.

He has been on the LCI staff for eight years, the last four as associate superintendent.

LCI is a medium-security facility used mostly for first offenders. It has about 1,400 inmates, all between the ages of 18 and 30.

R. BRIAN BELL

Captain R. Brian Bell, son of Joseph F. Bell of 581 N. Court St. and the late Elsie Ann Bell, has received the Department of the Air Force Special Award for Scientific Achievement.

Capt. Bell and two co-workers in the Electronic Technology Division, of the Air Force Avionics Laboratory at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, were presented separate awards for their development of a "High Average Radiance Segmented Axial Gradient Laser".

The laser device consists of 32 ruby discs arranged like a stack of coins on edge. This configuration approach is the key to operating solid-state lasers at high repetition rates and high average radiance required for Air Force illuminator applications. These applications involve space object identification and all stand-off range active imaging for reconnaissance, surveillance, and weapon delivery.

Capt. Bell will attend the VII International Quantum Electronics Conference in Montreal, Canada, in May to present a paper describing the theoretical and experimental results of their work.

During his past assignment at the AF Avionics Laboratory, he has conducted original research and directed contractual research efforts in the area of thermal-optic distortion reduction in high average power, solid-state lasers. He has one patent disclosure and is applying for another.

Brian has been reassigned to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colorado, and will report there on July 1. He has been selected to join the faculty as an instructor in the department of physics.

Brian is a graduate of Circleville High School, Ohio University, and the Air Force Institute of Technology. He holds a Masters Degree in Engineering Physics. He and his wife Diana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Wise, have two daughters, Christine, 3, and Stephanie, 6 months. They presently reside at 309 Longview St., Dayton, Ohio 45432.

How About A Crash Of Rhinos?

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Have you run into a gang of elk or a dray of squirrels lately?

If so, you probably thought of them as just a bunch of critters.

Not so, says Dr. William A. Burns, executive director of the San Diego Museum of Natural History. During much of his career he has compiled a lexicon of terms describing, from a literary standpoint, groups of birds and beasts.

For example, it's a crash of rhinoceroses.

A sounder of wild swine. If you don't want a murmuration of starlings or an unkindness of ravens in the yard, Burns suggests setting a clowder of cats after them.

How about an earth of foxes? An exaltation of larks? A pitying of turtle doves? An ostentation of peacocks? An army of herrings?

"Many people come into a museum asking 'What do you call a lot of herons or mallards or such?' and I remembered a faded list I made out 25 years ago and thought people might be interested," said Burns, once assistant director of the American Museum of Natural History in New York City.

After heading several U.S. museums over a 33-year career, Burns says he even came up with a name for his own kind.

"How about a frustration of museum directors?"

Trudeau Steers Clear Of Vietnam Squabble

TORONTO (AP) — Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau says "don't give me hell" over the United States' policy in Southeast Asia.

"In an election year if anyone is going to influence President Nixon it will be the American voter, not me," Trudeau told about 900 persons Thursday night at a town hall meeting.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's annual big show, the 24th Emmy Awards, for what must be the 24th time was too long and too much.

For two and one-quarter hours on CBS Sunday night the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences honored its best. But in addition to the marathon length, there were too many awards made on camera, too many recipients talked too long and thanked too many people.

And, where there were occasional breathers for unrelated entertainment, it was routine stuff—a choral group singing patriotic songs and Frank Gorshin doing impressions. There was a funny film sequence clipped from the current assortment of doctor shows which, by contrast, was a witty stand-out.

The programs and stars honored seemed to be logical and popular choices.

With news and documentary awards made a week earlier and with many categories—including daytime programs—cited before the show went on the air, it did seem that the television portion could have been chopped to manageable size and length by further wedding out.

The producers had the viewers' interests in mind some of the time, however. They did not save up all the most important awards to the very end.

The death over the weekend of big Dan Blocker inevitably means important changes in "Bonanza" next September. Blocker, one of the original cast members when the series started on NBC 13 years ago, was the series' star most likely to handle its comedy shows. He was the one with special appeal to the younger viewers.

The producers have a number of options in trying to plug the huge hole left in the show by the actor's death. It seems likely, however, that a new, important character will be introduced so that the heavy acting load involved in a weekly hour-long series can be split up.

Blocker's death at age 43 comes at a time when the series is to be moved from its familiar Sunday night berth into a Tuesday night niche—and important and potentially hazardous shift for any series. "Bonanza" needs all the help it can muster to make the transition with audience intact.

Delta Airlines

Hit By Judgment

CINCINNATI (AP)—A U.S. District Court jury has returned a $2,366,000 judgment against Delta Airlines in the aborted takeoff of a Trans World Airlines jet from Greater Cincinnati Airport.

Delta was ordered Friday to pay $2,216,000 to TWA; $105,000 to the estate of Marion Rosenthal; and $45,000 to George Rosenthal, a Cincinnati man and widower of Mrs. Rosenthal.

The Rosenthals were injured as they departed from an emergency exit in the TWA plane after it aborted the takeoff Nov. 6, 1967. There were 36 passengers on the plane but the Rosenthals were the only ones injured. Mrs. Rosenthal died four days later.

Soviets Rap Nixon Action

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press Saturday published long articles of the "dangerous escalation of U.S. aggression in Vietnam" but there was no indication President Nixon's summit visit was endangered.

The coverage contained little news and remained relatively mild.

There were no reports on any Soviet ships being damaged by American warplanes or Soviet confirmation of a Vietnam News Agency report that a seaman was killed and the captain wounded in a U.S. attack on a Soviet freighter.

The newspapers said the Soviet government statement that Nixon must end his actions to cut off shipping to North Vietnam "has evoked broad response throughout the world."

There also were numerous reports of mass meetings of protest in Moscow, Baku and other Soviet cities against the new U.S. actions.

Young Hitchhiker Can't Get A Lift

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Without funds and in a strange city, Lorry Dufren Jr. decided the best way to get home was by hitchhiking.

All the cars, however, were traveling in the wrong direction. Lorry never figured it out—he was trying to go the wrong way on a one-way street.

Some days it just doesn't pay for a bushy-haired, 6-year-old boy to get out of bed.

SERENE FACE — A shining bright look is the serene face. Blushing powder lends a healthy glow. Shadow enhances the eyes and a peach shade brightens lips.

Makeup Artist Creates A Colorful New Look

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Serene is a beautiful word. It means clear and free of storms or shining bright. When applied to a woman, the first definition bespeaks her inner calm, her lack of tension and temperament. The second, suggesting a great way to look, is what Nicholas of Charles of the Ritz had in mind when he created a new look, the Serene Face.

"The Serene Face starts from within," Nicholas said. "I am emphasizing it with clear vibrant makeup shades that give the face a shining bright look."

Nicholas likes eyes to look a slant Oriental. He achieves the effect by applying see-through shadow in a straight line across the entire lid. This elongates the eye. A curve of dark transparent shadow is worn under the brow.

He gives skin a porcelain finish with light, medium or deep beige liquid cream makeup. This makes a neutral background for blushing powder in bright see-through shades of Pinkamber, Coralust or Rosetone.

"The blusher," Nicholas said, "is not just for cheeks. It can be worn on chin, temple and across the forehead to give the face a healthy glow."

For a well-defined mouth, Nicholas suggests outlining it in coral or brown, then filling in with shimmering shades of pink, peach, orange or ginger.

Cam Ranh Bay Air Installation Given To Viets

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Air Force turned over its biggest installation in Vietnam, the $53 million Cam Ranh Bay Air Base, and announced the redeployment of the 2,000-man 483rd Tactical Airlift Wing.

Cam Ranh is on the coast about 190 miles northeast of Saigon.

The 483rd Tactical Airlift Wing was activated at Cam Ranh on Jan. 1, 1967, as the 483rd Troop Carrier Wing. In its five years, it carried more than 4.7 million passengers and averaged more than 100,000 tons of cargo each year.

U.S. military strength in South Vietnam dropped by 400 men last week, the smallest weekly cut since last September, the U.S. Command reported.

Women Lawyers To Apply For Jobs As FBI Agents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two women who filed suit against the late J. Edgar Hoover believe many women will take advantage of the bureau's new policy and try to become FBI agents.

Sandra Rothenberg Nemser and Cynthia Gitt, two lawyers, say they will resubmit applications to become agents as soon as they can.

"I would say hundreds, if not thousands, will do the same," said Mrs. Nemser, a 29-year-old Denver poverty lawyer married to a physician. "I'm glad the FBI will now follow the federal law."

Mrs. Cynthia Gitt, a 25-year-old attorney for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, also said there would be many women applying to become FBI agents.

"After we filed our suit last summer, I received several letters from women who were denied the opportunity," she said.

L. Patrick Gray III, acting FBI director, announced Friday that the FBI was changing its male-only policy and would seek female applicants for the first time in history.

Clean Up Penn Central Derailment

NEWCOMERTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Clean up operations are continuing near here today following the derailment of 32 cars of a 67-car Penn Central freight train Sunday.

The accident occurred three miles west of the city, tearing up 400 feet of westbound track, 800 feet of eastbound track and another 800 feet of siding.

Wrecking crews began work to restore the track Sunday afternoon. In the meantime, rail traffic is being rerouted around Newcomertown. Officials were unable to say how long the repairs would take.

Some of the derailed cars carried what Penn Central officials called "potentially hazardous chemicals," but were said to pose no immediate threat to area residents.

The Penn Central had chemical experts on the scene Sunday to keep an eye on those cars.

Another chemical car caught fire soon after the accident, but the fire was brought under control. Officials said it, too, did not threaten nearby residents, and no one was evacuated.

Officials were unable to explain why the accident happened. There were no estimates of damage.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. In order to be considered for publication, they must bear the correct name and address of the writer. Anonymous letters and those signed with the request that they not be published will not be accepted for publication. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of the Herald.

Dear Editor:

What has happened to the day when Fellowship was linked with Sportsmanship? A man of high integrity has been wronged, and the unfair methods used are an insult to all dedicated men and women of the teaching profession.

Charles Pritchard has been and no doubt always will be, held in high esteem by his fellow coaches, teachers, and previous team players who know him well. As a coach, he is a strong disciplinarian who believes in doing a job the way it should be done. Because of this, he has made enemies, and they have set out to destroy his career. Many know the truth of this situation. No doubt the children will suffer most from this public humiliation of a dedicated teacher and Christian athlete.

Taxpayers provide many dollars to have an outstanding school system. What good are schools if education and moral standards are not upheld? Teachers are hired to do a specific job and along with any job, that is done well there must be many rules and regulations. If set up as they should be, rules will apply not to just a few, but to all pupils. These children must learn in school in order to survive in the society in which we live. Who, but dedicated teachers, can instill in children the obligations they will face.

Every parent loves their own, or should, but to provide for the well-being of each child in each school, a great burden is placed upon the shoulders of teachers. Is it because of personal grudges or ill feelings from us, "as adults", that our students find it hard to understand what is really right and fair for all? Is this why the streets of our country are in turmoil? The universities filled with students rebelling and rioting?

No one should be dismissed from a position without having the right to defend himself, and certainly to be publicly criticized from the opinions of a few is very unfair. We need respect and discipline in our schools... Without it, they cannot survive.

Dear Editor:

The program for Mental Retardation in Pickaway County is on the move. The following programs have been accomplished in the past year:

1. The Brooks-Yates school has four classes with four teachers and 36 students. The programming in these classes is consistent with the state rules and regulations.

2. The workshop is an adult program and has 16 enrolled with one full time supervisor and one part time supervisor. The workshop is a non-profit corporation and functions in accordance under the rules and regulations of the State of Ohio. It has prime manufacturing as well as sub-contracts with industries and private individuals.

3. Special programs sponsored in part or in full by special agencies.

- a. Bowling Program — Jr. Women's Club.

- b. Swimming Program — sponsored in part by the Junior Women's Club.

- c. Special Events — Organizations listed: Jaycee's

- Easter Egg Hunt, Girl Scouts

- brought candy at Easter, F.H.A. Teays Valley — brought candy at Easter, F.H.A.

- Westfall — program after Easter and cupcakes, Logan

- Elm St. Class — presentation of class play, Mental Health

- Assoc. — donations for equipment and funds for the camp

- program, Shriner's — Shrine Circus, Sigma Phi Gamma

- Sorority — sewing machine and cabinet and supports at least

- one child for a week at camp, LaSertoma — special holiday

- parties, Key Club — C.H.S. — special Christmas gifts, Other

- interested parties — Citizens and staff of the county provide

- candies, cakes, equipment for special events, Union Guild — equipment, St. Philips Episcopal Ladies Group — spring Lunch, American Legion — Christmas and Easter dinner for students and parents.

As you can see we have come a long way in providing properly for our mentally retarded. We still have many special needs though and a long way to go, there can be no standing still in any program. The 169 Board has established a committee to gather information concerning residential care facilities. Sometimes mentally retarded children and adults are left behind without a place to live or anyone to care for them. It is a big problem finding proper homes for them.

The PARC has contacted Dr. Fred Mueller, administrator of The Hope School; and Mr. J. Lawhorn, administrator of the Residential Home, of Clark County. They are coming to Circleville to speak to all interested people on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Methodist Church. This is where we need your help!

Won't you please give some of your time to hear these gentlemen and ask questions. Only by investigating thoroughly can we give our children the best possible future.

Dear Editor:

Dogs make good companions and fine pets. They're friendly, lovable and warm. They have also been known to topple garbage cans, damage shrubbery, frighten small children, trample gardens, disturb sleep and leave "deposits" on lawns. (Children always find these first.)

Last night two "terrier-type" dogs from the neighboring development trapped and mauled our cat — on our own front porch. We like our pet as much as you like yours. We'd like yours a lot more if he'd stay home. So won't you please be more responsible dog owners and better neighbors.

Weekend Ohio Crashes Claim 17

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio streets and highways claimed 17 lives over the weekend just ended, the lowest toll in three weeks.

Four accidents accounted for nine of the deaths, including two double-death accidents Sunday, a triple-death accident Saturday and a pickup truck-bicycle accident Friday night that killed two.

The past weekend's deaths compare with 18 deaths a week earlier and 25 deaths two weeks ago.

Thirteen persons died a year ago this weekend.

The dead:
FRIDAY NIGHT
EAST LIVERPOOL — Jack

Cohen, 52, and his wife Kathleen, 41, of East Liverpool, when their tandem bicycle was struck by a pickup truck on Ohio 14 in Columbiana County.

Trace Sets Kindergarten Enrollment

Parents of the Zane Trace school district may register their children for kindergarten on June 7 and 8.

Registration will be from 9 until 11 a.m. and from 12:30 until 3 p.m. both dates in room 7 of the junior high building in Kingston.

Pupils entertaining kindergarten must reach the age of five years on or before Sept. 30 of this year. At the time of enrollment, parents must present an official document as proof of the child's birthdate, and an immunization record showing evidence of vaccination for smallpox, diphtheria, polio and measles.

No child will be registered without these records.

Students attending the kindergarten must live in Zane Trace School district. Thirty students will be accepted in each of the classes, one held in the morning and one in the afternoon.

Schedule Hearing On Gas Rate Hikes

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati City Council intergovernmental affairs committee scheduled a public hearing on proposed rate hikes by the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co. today at 2 p.m.

The firm had sought about a 13 per cent increase in electricity and about six per cent for natural gas for city residents.

and the Protestant Springmartin housing development.

"But there is still a lot of tension in the air," one British officer said. "It won't take much to touch things off again."

The battle began Saturday afternoon when a bomb in a car blasted Kelly's Bar, on the edge of Ballymurphy.

The pub was jammed with soccer fans watching an international match on television,

Hanoi Shaken By U.S. Bombs

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Times newsman Anthony Lewis reports from Hanoi that the city's main road and rail bridge to the east and north has been rendered unusable by the U.S. bombing.

Lewis reported in today's edition of the Times that the Red River bridge is still standing but cannot be used by vehicles and will take months to repair according to some foreign experts.

He quoted informed non-Vietnamese sources as saying that recent bombings had struck the main rail line north and south of the city as well as the line between Hanoi and Haiphong.

New York State had three hunting fatalities in 1971, a drop from the 9.4 average for the preceding five-year period.

British Paratroopers Stop Catholic - Protestant Duel

BELFAST (AP) — British paratroopers pushed through a crossfire of bullets early today to establish a truce line between battling Protestants and Roman Catholics in Belfast. Nine persons were killed in the weekend of violence, including a 13-year-old girl.

It was Northern Ireland's most violent weekend in three and a half months, since British paratroopers killed 13 demonstrators on "Bloody Sunday" Jan. 30 in Londonderry. At least 327 persons now have died in nearly three years of communal warfare in Northern Ireland.

The army said quiet prevailed early today on the battlefield of bullet-scarred buildings between the Ballymurphy district, one of the toughest Catholic enclaves in the city,

Solon's Michigan Office Firebombed

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP) — The office of Rep. William S. Broomfield was destroyed early today by a fire bomb, police reported.

Officials said the single-story office of the 15th District Republican congressman was gutted after a firebomb was thrown through a large plate glass window about 1:30 a.m.

Police and FBI officials said they knew of no reason for the firebombing.

Paraplegic Korean War Vet Qualified Instrument Flier

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — John Coughlin can't walk, so he flies.

Coughlin, 38, has spent 20 years in a wheelchair. A Jeep accident during the Korean War left him a paraplegic. But his chest, arms and shoulders are strong; so is his spirit.

He tools his wheelchair out to his small single-engine air-coupe, tosses his legs onto the wing and hoists himself into the cockpit.

Now, after two weeks of training and nearly three years after receiving his private pilot's license, he is qualified to take to the skies when he can't even see them he has his instrument rating.

"To a flier, that's the difference between being an amateur and a professional," Coughlin said.

He said he knew of only one other instrument-rated pilot who was paralyzed "and he was a military pilot before his injury and all he had to do was learn."

"There are four or five others who fly, but just for their own pleasure," he said, adding he planned to reopen a charter boat business and do his own fish spotting from the air.

After he was injured, Coughlin and his wife Pat started running a charter boat. An essential part of his service was a plane used to spot large manatees and schools of fish that feed near them.

How To Lose A Car

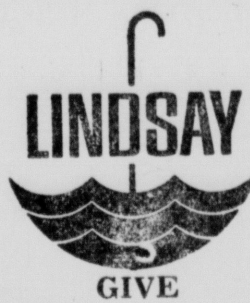

DALLAS (AP) — Jody Rigby, 19, after trying for 15 minutes to get his 1964 car going, walked to a service station for help. Since the car wouldn't start, he left his keys behind.

Someone more resourceful drove it away.

"This gave me the idea to try flying," he said, and he soon bought the plane that takes him above his Florida Keys home on Marathon.

The aircraft is steered by a wheel instead of by ruder pedals common to most small airplanes. Coughlin stops it with a hand brake.

"I never dreamed I would be able to do anything like this," he said. "It's something I can do, and do well. You don't have to ask me if I enjoy it."

R. BRIAN BELL

Captain R. Brian Bell, son of Joseph F. Bell of 581 N. Court St. and the late Elsie Ann Bell, has received the Department of the Air Force Special Award for Scientific Achievement.

Capt. Bell and two co-workers in the Electronic Technology Division, of the Air Force Avionics Laboratory at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, were presented separate awards for their development of a "High Average Radiance Segmented Axial Gradient Laser".

The laser device consists of 32 ruby discs arranged like a stack of coins on edge. This configuration approach is the key to operating solid-state lasers at high repetition rates and high average radiance required for Air Force illuminator applications. These applications involve space object identification and all stand-off range active imaging for reconnaissance, surveillance, and weapon delivery.

Capt. Bell will attend the VII International Quantum Electronics Conference in Montreal, Canada, in May to present a paper describing the theoretical and experimental results of their work.

During his past assignment at the AF Avionics Laboratory, he has conducted original research and directed contractual research efforts in the area of thermal-optic distortion reduction in high average power, solid-state lasers. He has one patent disclosure and is applying for another.

Brian has been reassigned to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colorado, and will report there on July 1. He has been selected to join the faculty as an instructor in the department of physics.

Brian is a graduate of Circleville High School, Ohio University, and the Air Force Institute of Technology. He holds a Masters Degree in Engineering Physics. He and his wife Diana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Wise, have two daughters, Christine, 3, and Stephanie, 6 months. They presently reside at 309 Longview St., Dayton, Ohio 45432.

How About A Crash Of Rhinos?

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Have you run into a gang of elk or a dray of squirrels lately? If so, you probably thought of them as just a bunch of critters.

Not so, says Dr. William A. Burns, executive director of the San Diego Museum of Natural History. During much of his career he has compiled a lexicon of terms describing, from a literary standpoint, groups of birds and beasts.

For example, it's a crash of rhinoceroses.

A sounder of wild swine. If you don't want a murmuration of starlings or an unkindness of ravens in the yard, Burns suggests setting a clobber of cats after them.

How about an earth of foxes? An exaltation of larks? A pitying of turtle doves? An ostentation of peacocks? An army of herrings?

"Many people come into a museum asking 'What do you call a lot of herons or mallards or such?' and I remembered a faded list I made out 25 years ago and thought people might be interested," said Burns, once assistant director of the American Museum of Natural History in New York City.

After heading several U.S. museums over a 33-year career, Burns says he even came up with a name for his own kind.

"How about a frustration of museum directors?"

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's annual big show, the 24th Emmy Awards, for what must be the 24th time was too long and too much.

For two and one-quarter hours on CBS Sunday night the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences honored its best. But in addition to the marathon length, there were too many awards made on camera, too many recipients talked too long and thanked too many people.

And, where there were occasional breathers for unrelated entertainment, it was routine stuff—a choral group singing patriotic songs and Frank Gorshin doing impressions. There was a funny film sequence clipped from the current assortment of doctor shows which, by contrast, was a witty standout.

The programs and stars honored seemed to be logical and popular choices. With news and documentary awards made a week earlier and with many categories—including daytime programs—cited before the show went on the air, it did seem that the television portion could have been chopped to manageable size and length by further wedding out.

The producers had the viewers' interests in mind some of the time, however. They did not save up all the most important awards to the very end.

The death over the weekend of big Dan Blocker inevitably means important changes in "Bonanza" next September. Blocker, one of the original cast members when the series started on NBC 13 years ago, was the series' star most likely to handle its comedy shows. He was the one with special appeal to the younger viewers.

The producers have a number of options in trying to plug the huge hole left in the show by the actor's death. It seems likely, however, that a new, important character will be introduced so that the heavy acting load involved in a weekly hour-long series can be split up.

Blocker's death at age 43 comes at a time when the series is to be moved from its familiar Sunday night berth into a Tuesday night niche—and important and potentially hazardous shift for any series. "Bonanza" needs all the help it can muster to make the transition with audience intact.

Delta Airlines

Hit By Judgment

CINCINNATI (AP)—A U.S. District Court jury has returned a $2,366,000 judgment against Delta Airlines in the aborted takeoff of a Trans World Airlines jet from Greater Cincinnati Airport.

Delta was ordered Friday to pay $2,216,000 to TWA; $105,000 to the estate of Marion Rosenthal; and $45,000 to George Rosenthal, a Cincinnati man and widower of Mrs. Rosenthal.

The Rosenthals were injured as they departed from an emergency exit in the TWA plane after it aborted the takeoff Nov. 6, 1967. There were 36 passengers on the plane but the Rosenthals were the only ones injured. Mrs. Rosenthal died four days later.

Soviets Rap

Nixon Action

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press Saturday published long articles of the "dangerous escalation of U.S. Aggression in Vietnam" but there was no indication President Nixon's summit visit was endangered.

The coverage contained little news and remained relatively mild.

There were no reports on any Soviet ships being damaged by American warplanes or Soviet confirmation of a Vietnam News Agency report that a seaman was killed and the captain wounded in a U.S. attack on a Soviet freighter.

The newspapers said the Soviet government statement that Nixon must end his actions to cut off shipping to North Vietnam has evoked broad response throughout the world.

There also were numerous reports of mass meetings of protest in Moscow, Baku and other Soviet cities against the new U.S. actions.

Minnesota Defeats Brewers, 4-2

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON Associated Press Sports Writer

There's a student revolt going on in the American League West where, with the full approval of Al Worthington, Minnesota's dean of pitchers, the Twins have taken over the division.

It's a peaceful demonstration, though. At least most opposing batters have acted peaceful enough to give the Twins' pitching staff a 1.86 earned run average following unbeaten Jim Kaat's 4-2 victory Sunday over Milwaukee.

The Twins are off to their fastest start in history with a 16-5 record and lead the AL West by 2 1/2 games over Oakland. Kaat, 4-0, is off to a better start than 1966, when he won 25 games.

Prof. Worthington, who had been in sales and insurance since retiring as an active pitcher in 1969, came back to coach the Minnesota pitching staff this season and school started in spring training with classes every two or three days.

"One of the first things I talked about was attitude. Attitude plays a big part in winning and our pitchers have it."

Elsewhere, Oakland edged Boston 6-5, the Chicago White Sox downed Baltimore 4-1, Cleveland nipped Texas 4-3 in 10 innings, Detroit shaded Kansas City 3-2 but dropped the second part of a doubleheader 8-4 and California whipped the New York Yankees 6-2.

Kaat not only stopped Milwaukee on six hits but hit a two-run homer in the third. Two Minnesota errors helped the Brewers spoil Kaat's shut-out bid in the sixth and Billy Conigliaro homered in the ninth for their other run.

Boston first baseman Duane Josephson went from hero to goat in a manner of minutes against Oakland. First, he hit a two-run homer to tie the game in the eighth. Then, he made a wild throw to the plate with the bases loaded in the ninth that allowed the winning run to score.

Baltimore's slump reached four games when Chicago's Tom Bradley checked the Orioles on six hits and Rich Morales drove in two runs with a homer and single.

Cleveland nosed back into first place in the AL East, one-half game ahead of Detroit, when Chris Chambliss socked a 10th-inning home run to nip Texas. Ray Fosse and Eddie Leon homered earlier for the Indians and Gaylord Perry hurled a six-hitter for his sixth victory.

Richie Scheinblum's three-run homer brought Kansas City from behind in the nightcap against Detroit and helped the Royals end a five-game losing streak. Freddie Patek and Paul Schaal contributed two-run doubles.

The Tigers rallied to win the opener on Dick McAuliffe's two-out, two-run homer in the eighth inning. Joe Coleman

Bob Unser Turns 195.940; Crashes Mar Indy Trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Bobby Unser drove a fragile, lightweight race car 10 miles at an unbelievable 195.940 miles per hour Sunday and said, "I feel like crying."

"We had our necks stuck out a mile, and for the first time in years I really felt like I was driving at the ragged edge of disaster," added the man who almost surely has clinched the pole position for the 56th running of the Indianapolis 500-mile race May 27.

Plagued by bad weather that washed out all of Saturday's first session of time trials, Speedway officials managed to place 12 drivers in the 33-car field after waiting out rain showers that twice interrupted proceedings Sunday.

Even then, five drivers were still waiting on the qualifying line when the track closed at 6 p.m., among them the No. 1 and No. 2 qualifiers for the 1971 race, Peter Revson and Mark Donohue.

Only these two appear to have a chance at dislodging Unser from the pole. Revson has been clocked at 190-plus in practice.

With a week to find the answer, Revson and Donohue at the very least could knock the other current front row sitters,

Gary Bettenhausen and Mario Andretti, further down in the ranks.

Though they aren't eligible for the pole, still to be heard from are such chargers as Al Unser, A. J. Foyt Jr., and newcomer Bill Vukovich.

Foyt and Al Unser broke their engines during qualifying attempts, while Vukovich lost control after completing one lap and crashed into the first turn barrier.

Al Unser won the 1970 and 1971 races and Foyt is the only active three-time winner. Foyt was the lone driver to attempt to qualify Saturday, but a piston broke in his Coyote-Ford and he couldn't make repairs in time to run Sunday.

Aside from Vukovich, "the day's only other crash involved front-runner Jim Malloy," Denver, Colo. Malloy's Eagle spun 75 feet and crashed into the third turn wall head on during the Sunday morning practice session.

He was listed in critical condition at an Indianapolis hospital with two broken legs, a broken arm and burns on the face, arms and legs.

Bobby Unser, driving a new Eagle produced by Dan Gurney's All-American Racers, rocketed around the 2 1/2-mile oval to compile his 195.940 average.

Bettenhausen was Sunday's second best qualifier at 188.877 m.p.h. He is driving a McLaren fielded by Roger Penske.

Mario Andretti, the 1969 Indy 500 winner and three-time national driving champ, grabbed a shaky hold on the other front row berth by qualifying at 187.617 in one of the Parnelli Jones team cars.

Reds Capture Twinbill From Cardinals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Four straight victories over St. Louis has revived pennant hopes for the Cincinnati Reds who are now only 3 1/2 games behind the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Hot swinging Tony Perez blasted two home runs and all six runs in Sunday's doubleheader with the Cardinals giving Cincinnati 4-3 and 2-0 victories.

"That four games really helps," said an elated Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson. "Now if we can beat the teams in the Western Division like we handled St. Louis I think we can win it."

"Perez is one of those hitters who hits everything when he's hot," said a dejected Red Schoendienst.

"I've never heard of one man knocking in all runs in winning a doubleheader. It looked like our club and the Reds were having the same kinds of problems and when we come to town somehow they always seem to get going," said the St. Louis manager noting his team has dropped six of seven games in Cincinnati this season.

Tom Hall, who came to Cincinnati as a relief pitcher from the Minnesota Twins, hurled the Reds first complete game of the season in the second game striking out 12 and giving up only three hits.

Jim McGlothlin held the Cards runless until the eighth inning when Joe Hague led off with a home run and Lou Brock did the same but with one on. The Reds came back in the same inning with Perez' homer to left after Morgan walked, to win the game.

"Walks hurt us in the first game," said Schoendienst. Scipio Sprinks, who walked four in the game, gave up a home run to Perez after walking McGlothlin and Joe Morgan in the third inning.

"Not taking it away," said Schoendienst, "Hall pitched a great game and had outstanding stuff. None of our batters said too much when they came back to the dugout. He was mixing his pitches well and it was hard to pick up the ball at the end of the game because of the shadows" in Riverfront Stadium.

Reds' catcher John Bench agreed. "I thought he (Hall) would tire in the seventh but the shadows got heavy and he really started throwing again. He was fast—look at my swollen hand," said Bench extending it to newsmen.

Vikings Drop Metro Tilt To Olentangy, 4-3

Teays Valley dropped a 4-3 decision to Olentangy Saturday in a Metropolitan League clash.

The Vikings had tallied a single run in the second inning and added two more in the third to grab a 3-0 lead.

But Olentangy rallied for three runs in the bottom of the fifth to knot the count.

The score remained tied going into the bottom of the seventh but B. Meade got his pitch and smashed a four-bagger to give Olentangy the win.

ROY Good opened on the hill for the Vikings with Sam Wilson coming on in relief in the fifth frame. Good allowed three hits, walked two and fanned five. Wilson gave up one hit, walked four didn't come up with a strikeout.

Russ Meade hurled the win for Olentangy. He allowed five hits, walked four and struckout nine.

Phil Salyers had two singles for the Vikings while Lloyd McManus, Jeff Beatty and Joe Lombardo each had a one-bagger.

Teays Valley is now 7-11 for the season, 4-3 in league play and will play at West Jefferson today in a Metro tilt.

Jerry Heard Wins Colonial Tourney; After Nicklaus

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Jerry Heard is a casual, relaxed, quietly-confident young man, who has immediate goals now, especially after his victory Sunday in the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

"I want to knock off Jack (Nicklaus)," he said, lacking even a trace of bravado. "I'll play next week (in the Danny Thomas-Memphis Open starting Thursday), but I'm not sure what I'll do after that. I want to be right for the U.S. Open. I want to get Nicklaus."

Nicklaus announced earlier this year his hope of winning the Big Four titles this year, the United States and British Opens, the Masters and PGA. He has won the Masters. The U.S. Open is scheduled June 15-18 at Pebble Beach, Calif.

Nicklaus skipped this event but will play in Memphis.

Heard's $25,000 first prize increased his tour winnings this season to $106,000, second to Nicklaus' $154,000.

The NIT was his third career victory and second this season. He blew a two-stroke lead with a double bogey on the 17th hole which dropped him into a tie with Fred Marti. But he won on the 18th by two strokes when he sank a 25-foot birdie putt following a Marti bogey from a buried lie in a bunker.

Heard, 25, finished with a three-over-par 73 and a 275 total, five-under-par on the very tough 7,142-yard Colonial Country Club course.

Marti, winless after nine tour years, saw his hopes for a victory fade at the 18th hole when he observed the impossible shot he faced from the bunker.

Wittenberg Winner O-K-I Sets Hearing

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Wittenberg University finally won the Ohio Conference tennis championships, but not until after rain first delayed the matches, then forced a shift in the competition site.

Wittenberg ended the tournament with 25 points, three better than pre-competition favorites Ohio Wesleyan and Wooster at 22.

Michigan Big 10 Tennis Champion

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Michigan won its fifth consecutive Big 10 tennis championship Sunday, while defending champion Joel Ross of Michigan lost his singles crown to Minnesota's Jim Ebbitt.

old Mays, who started his major league career in 1951 with the Giants, when the club was in New York.

While Mays was celebrating his return to New York, Tony Perez of Cincinnati celebrated his 30th birthday, driving in all of the Reds' runs with two homers, a double and a single in 4-3 and 2-0 victories over St. Louis.

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta edged Chicago 2-1, Houston outlasted Pittsburgh 7-6, Montreal ripped San Diego 9-3, and Los Angeles at Philadelphia was rained out.

The victory gave the Mets a 17-7 record, best in the National League, and put them three games ahead of runner-up Philadelphia in the East Division.

Mays' homer, which tied him with former Giant Mel Ott for seventh place on the all-time RBI with 1,860, overshadowed Rusty Staub's first grand slam homer with the Mets.

"It was Mays' day," conceded Staub.

Perez gave Cincinnati a 2-0 lead in the third inning of the first game with a double that scored Jim McGlothlin and Joe Morgan. Then, after St. Louis had gone ahead in the top of the eighth on Joe Hague's solo homer and Lou Brock's two-run shot, Perez drilled his fifth homer of the season into left center field.

In the nightcap, Perez singled in a run in the first inning and homered over the right-center field wall in the sixth in support of the three-hit, 12-strikeout pitching of Tom Hall, making his first National League start.

Darrell Evans' fourth homer of the season—his first in three weeks—broke a 1-1 tie in the ninth inning and lifted Atlanta past the Cubs.

Cesar Cedeño smashed a two-run homer in the first inning and Bob Watson hit the next pitch out of the park, triggering Houston's victory over Pittsburgh. The Astros added four runs in the second, the last scoring on a single by Watson.

The Pirates closed to within 7-6 in the seventh when Willie Stargell slammed a two-run homer, his sixth of the season and the 250th of his career. But unbeaten Jim Ray stopped them the rest of the way, gaining his third save against five victories.

Bob Bailey drove in three runs with a single and a double, Mike Jorgensen cracked a two-run homer, Ron Fairly had a solo shot and Tim Lincecum rapped a two-run double—his first hit in 29 at-bats—leading Montreal's attack against San Diego.

Dear Editor:

What has happened to the day when Fellowship was linked with Sportsmanship? A man of high integrity has been wronged, and the unfair methods used are an insult to all dedicated men and women of the teaching profession.

Charles Pritchard has been and no doubt always will be, held in high esteem by his fellow coaches, teachers, and previous team players who know him well. As a coach, he is a strong disciplinarian who believes in doing a job the way it should be done. Because of this, he has made enemies, and they have set out to destroy his career. Many know the truth of this situation. No doubt the children will suffer most from this public humiliation of a dedicated teacher and Christian athlete.

Taxpayers provide many dollars to have an outstanding school system. What good are schools if education and moral standards are not upheld? Teachers are hired to do a specific job and along with any job, that is done well there must be many rules and regulations. If set up as they should be, rules will apply not to just a few, but to all pupils. These children must learn in school in order to survive in the society in which we live. Who, but dedicated teachers, can instill in children the obligations they will face.

Every parent loves their own, or should, but to provide for the well-being of each child in each school, a great burden is placed upon the shoulders of teachers. Is it because of personal grudges or ill feelings from us, "as adults", that our students find it hard to understand what is really right and fair for all? Is this why the streets of our country are in turmoil? The universities filled with students rebelling and rioting?

No one should be dismissed from a position without having the right to defend himself, and certainly to be publicly criticized from the opinions of a few is very unfair. We need respect and discipline in our schools... Without it, they cannot survive.

Dear Editor:

The program for Mental Retardation in Pickaway County is on the move. The following programs have been accomplished in the past years:

1. The Brooks-Yates school has four classes with four teachers and 36 students. The programming in these classes is consistent with the state rules and regulations.
2. The workshop is an adult program and has 16 enrolled with one full time supervisor and one part time supervisor. The workshop is a non-profit corporation and functions in accordance under the rules and regulations of the State of Ohio.

3. Special programs sponsored in part or in full by special agencies.

- a. Bowling Program — Jr. Women's Club.
- b. Swimming Program — sponsored in part by the Junior Women's Club.
- c. Special Events — Organizations listed: Jaycee's — Easter Egg Hunt, Girl Scouts — brought candy at Easter, F.H.A. Teays Valley — brought candy at Easter, F.H.A. Westfall — program after Easter and cupcakes, Logan Elm Sr. Class — presentation of class play, Mental Health Assoc. — donations for equipment and funds for the camp program, Shriner's — Shrine Circus, Sigma Phi Gamma Sorority — sewing machine and cabinet and supports at least one child for a week at camp, LaSertoma — special holiday parties, Key Club — C.H.S. — special Christmas gifts, Other interested parties — Citizens and staff of the county provide candies, cakes, equipment for special events, Union Guild — equipment, St. Philips Episcopal Ladies Group — spring Lunch, American Legion — Christmas and Easter dinner for students and parents.

As you can see we have come a long way in providing properly for our mentally retarded. We still have many special needs though and a long way to go, there can be no standing still in any program. The 189 Board has established a committee to gather information concerning residential care facilities. Sometimes mentally retarded children and adults are left behind without a place to live or anyone to care for them. It is a big problem finding proper homes for them.

The PARC has contacted Dr. Fred Mueller, administrator of The Hope School; and Mr. J. Lawhorn, administrator of the Residential Home, of Clark County. They are coming to Circleville to speak to all interested people on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Methodist Church. This is where we need your help!

Won't you please give some of your time to hear these gentlemen and ask questions. Only by investigating thoroughly can we give our children the best possible future.

Dear Editor:

Dogs make good companions and fine pets. They're friendly, lovable and warm. They have also been known to topple garbage cans, damage shrubbery, frighten small children, trample gardens, disturb sleep and leave "deposits" on lawns. (Children always find these first.)

Last night two "terrier-type" dogs from the neighboring development trapped and mauled our cat — on our own front porch. We like our pet as much as you like yours. We'd like yours a lot more if he'd stay home. So won't you please be more responsible dog owners and better neighbors.

British Paratroopers Stop Catholic - Protestant Duel

BELFAST (AP) — British paratroopers pushed through a crossfire of bullets early today to establish a truce line between battling Protestants and Roman Catholics in Belfast.

Nine persons were killed in the weekend of violence, including a 13-year-old girl.

It was Northern Ireland's most violent weekend in three and a half months, since British paratroopers killed 13 demonstrators on "Bloody Sunday's" Jan. 30 in Londonderry. At least 327 persons now have died in nearly three years of communal warfare in Northern Ireland.

The army said quiet prevailed early today on the battlefield of bullet-scarred buildings between the Ballymurphy district, one of the toughest Catholic enclaves in the city, and the Protestant Springmartin housing development.

"But there is still a lot of tension in the air," one British officer said. "It won't take much to touch things off again."

The battle began Saturday afternoon when a bomb in a car blasted Kelly's Bar, on the edge of Ballymurphy.

The pub was jammed with soccer fans watching an international match on television.

Hanoi Shaken By U.S. Bombs

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Times newsman Anthony Lewis reports from Hanoi that the city's main road and rail bridge to the east and north has been rendered unusable by the U.S. bombing.

Lewis reported in today's edition of the Times that the Red River bridge is still standing but cannot be used by vehicles and will take months to repair according to some foreign experts.

He quoted informed non-Vietnamese sources as saying that recent bombings had struck the main rail line north and south of the city as well as the line between Hanoi and Haiphong.

New York State had three hunting fatalities in 1971, a drop from the 9.4 average for the preceding five-year period.

and 53 persons, including some children playing outside, were wounded.

Snipers hidden along the grassy edge of the Springmartin estate opened fire on the crowd which raced to the blast scene. Guerrillas of the Irish Republican Army raced to strongpoints in Ballymurphy and sent back a hail of fire into the squat apartment houses overlooking the Catholic zone.

The shooting spread along a mile-long perimeter, and troops moved up to try to restore peace. The Protestant fire apparently died out, and the soldiers were left shooting it out with a large force of IRA guerrillas.

Troops ringed the city to keep out reinforcements for the fighters, but sporadic fire cracked throughout Saturday night and raged up again into Sunday's full-scale battle between the two religious groups.

Schedule Hearing On Gas Rate Hikes

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati City Council inter-governmental affairs committee scheduled a public hearing on proposed rate hikes by the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co. today at 2 p.m.

The firm had sought about a 13 per cent increase in electricity and about six per cent for natural gas for city residents.

Paraplegic Korean War Vet Qualified Instrument Flier

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — John Coughlin can't walk, so he flies.

Coughlin, 38, has spent 20 years in a wheelchair. A Jeep accident during the Korean War left him a paraplegic. But his chest, arms and shoulders are strong; so is his spirit.

He tools his wheelchair out to his small single-engine airplane, tosses his legs onto the wing and hoists himself into the cockpit.

Now, after two weeks of training and nearly three years after receiving his private pilot's license, he is qualified to take to the skies when he can't even see them he has his instrument rating.

"To a flier, that's the difference between being an amateur and a professional," Coughlin said.

He said he knew of only one other instrument-rated pilot who was paralyzed "and he was a military pilot before his injury and all he had to do was relearn."

"There are four or five others who fly, but just for their own pleasure," he said, adding he planned to reopen a charter boat business and do his own fish spotting from the air.

After he was injured, Coughlin and his wife Pat started running a charter boat. An essential part of his service was a plane used to spot large mantarays and schools of fish that feed near them.

How To Lose A Car

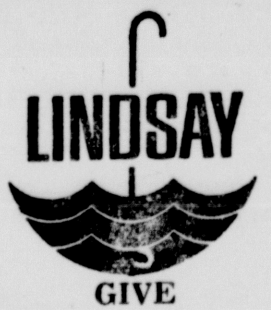

DALLAS (AP) — Jody Rigby, 19, after trying for 15 minutes to get his 1964 car going, walked to a service station for help. Since the car wouldn't start, he left his keys behind.

Someone more resourceful drove it away.

"This gave me the idea to try flying," he said, and he soon bought the plane that takes him above his Florida Keys home on Marathon.

The aircraft is steered by a wheel instead of by ruder pedals common to most small airplanes. Coughlin stops it with a hand brake.

"I never dreamed I would be able to do anything like this," he said. "It's something I can do, and do well. You don't have to ask me if I enjoy it."

Reds Capture Twinbill From Cardinals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Four straight victories over St. Louis has revived pennant hopes for the Cincinnati Reds who are now only 3 1/2 games behind the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Hot swinging Tony Perez blasted two home runs and all six runs in Sunday's double-header with the Cardinals giving Cincinnati 4-3 and 2-0 victories.

"That four games really helps," said an elated Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson. "Now if we can beat the teams in the Western Division like we handled St. Louis I think we can win it."

"Perez is one of those hitters who hits everything when he's hot," said a dejected Red Schoendienst.

"I've never heard of one man knocking in all runs in winning a double-header. It looked like our club and the Reds were having the same kinds of problems and when we come to town somehow they always seem to get going," said the St. Louis manager noting his team has dropped six of seven games in Cincinnati this season.

Tom Hall, who came to Cincinnati as a relief pitcher from the Minnesota Twins, hurled the Reds first complete game of the season in the second game striking out 12 and giving up only three hits.

Jim McGlothlin held the Cards runless until the eighth inning when Joe Hagie led off with a home run and Lou Brock did the same but with one on.

The Reds came back in the same inning with Perez' homer to left after Morgan walked, to win the game.

"Walks hurt us in the first game," said Schoendienst. "Scipio Sprinks, who walked four in the game, gave up a home run to Perez after walking McGlothlin and Joe Morgan in the third inning."

"Not taking it away," said Schoendienst, "Hall pitched a great game and had outstanding stuff. None of our batters said too much when they came back to the dugout. He was mixing his pitches well and it was hard to pick up the ball at the end of the game because of the shadows" in Riverfront Stadium.

Reds' catcher John Bench agreed. "I thought he (Hall) would tire in the seventh but the shadows got heavy and he really started throwing again. Is he fast?—look at my swollen hand," said Bench extending it to newsmen.

Vikings Drop Metro Tilt To Olentangy, 4-3

Teays Valley dropped a 4-3 decision to Olentangy Saturday in a Metropolitan League clash.

The Vikings had tallied a single run in the second inning and added two more in the third to grab a 3-0 lead.

But Olentangy rallied for three runs in the bottom of the fifth to knot the count.

The score remained tied going into the bottom of the seventh but B. Meade got his pitch and smashed a four-bagger to give Olentangy the win.

ROY Good opened on the hill for the Vikings with Sam Wilson coming in on relief in the fifth frame. Good allowed three hits, walked two and fanned five. Wilson gave up one hit, walked four but didn't come up with a strikeout.

Russ Meade hurled the win for Olentangy. He allowed five hits, walked four and struckout nine.

Phil Salyers had two singles for the Vikings while Lloyd McManus, Jeff Beatty and Joe Lombardo each had a one-bagger.

Teays Valley is now 7-11 for the season, 4-3 in league play and will play at West Jefferson today in a Metro tilt.

Banquet Correction

Circleville's Spring Sports Banquet will be held May 25 instead of Thursday as reported in Saturday's Herald.

Jerry Heard Wins Colonial Tourney; After Nicklaus

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Jerry Heard is a casual, relaxed, quietly-confident young man, who has immediate goals now, especially after his victory Sunday in the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

"I want to knock off Jack (Nicklaus)," he said, lacking even a trace of bravado. "I'll play next week in the Danny Thomas-Memphis Open starting Thursday), but I'm not sure what I'll do after that. I want to be right for the U.S. Open. I want to get Nicklaus."

Nicklaus announced earlier this year his hope of winning the Big Four titles this year, the United States and British Opens, the Masters and PGA. He has won the Masters. The U.S. Open is scheduled June 15-18 at Pebble Beach, Calif.

Nicklaus skipped this event but will play in Memphis.

Heard's $25,000 first prize increased his tour winnings this season to $106,000, second to Nicklaus' $154,000.

The NIT was his third career victory and second this season. He blew a two-stroke lead with a double bogey on the 17th hole which dropped him into a tie with Fred Marti. But he won on the 18th by two strokes when he sank a 25-foot birdie putt following a Marti bogey from a buried lie in a bunker.

Heard, 25, finished with a three-over-par 73 and a 275 total, five-under-par on the very tough 7,142-yard Colonial Country Club course.

Marti, winless after nine tour years, saw his hopes for a victory fade at the 18th hole when he observed the impossible shot he faced from the bunker.

Mays Homer Gives Mets Win Over Giants

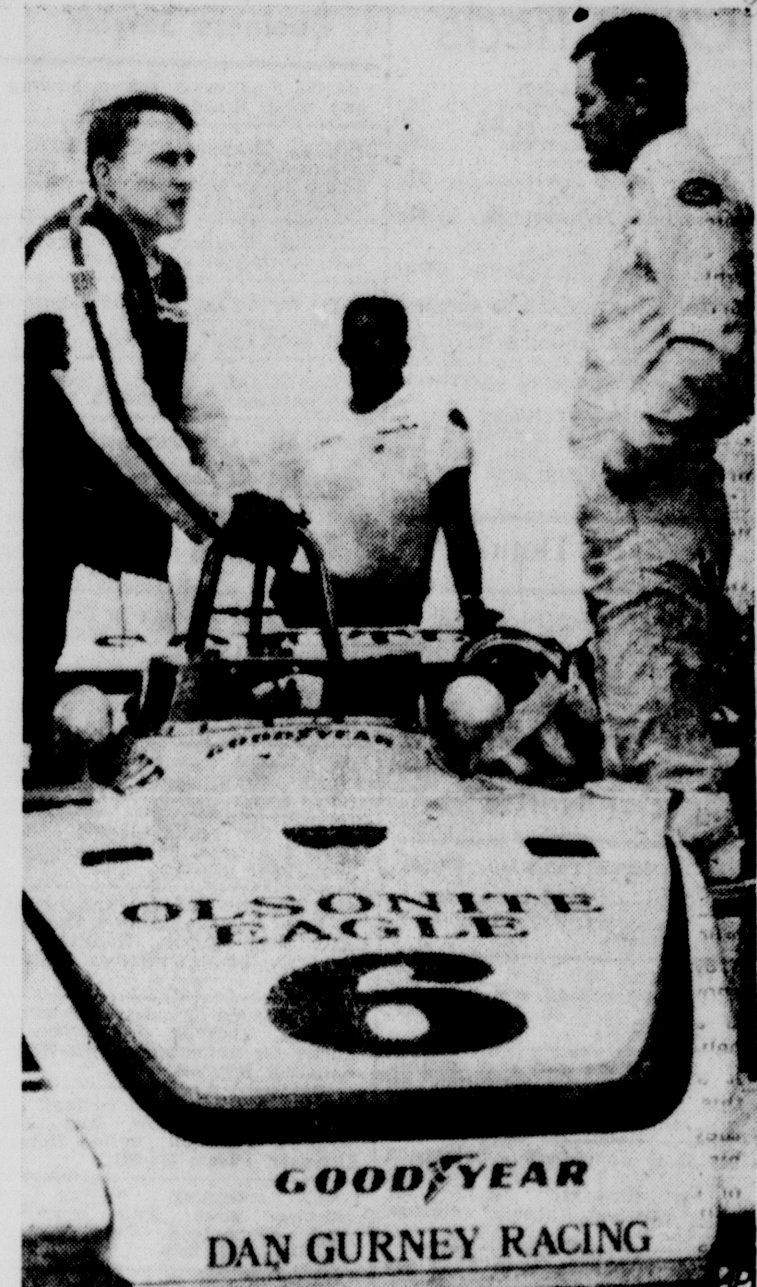

By BERT ROSENTHAL Associated Press Sports Writer

"Sey Hey," Willie's back. "I'm just glad I'm back playing in New York," said Willie Mays Sunday, after he had made a dramatic debut with the Mets, hammering a tie-breaking home run in a 5-4 victory over his former San Francisco teammates.

"There's no place to play like New York," said the 41-year-

FAST COMPANY — Championship race driver Bobby Unser and owner-builder Dan Gurney talk over the fastest lap in Indianapolis Speedway history. Unser set the unofficial record with a speed of 194.721 mph in the Olsonite Eagle, a Dan Gurney car.

Bob Unser Turns 195.940, Crashes Mar Indy Trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Bob Unser drove a fragile, lightweight race car 10 miles at an unbelievable 195.940 miles per hour Sunday and said, "I feel like crying."

"We had our necks stuck out a mile, and for the first time in years I really felt like I was driving at the ragged edge of disaster," added the man who almost surely has clinched the pole position for the 56th running of the Indianapolis 500-mile race May 27.

Plagued by bad weather that washed out all of Saturday's first session of time trials, Speedway officials managed to place 12 drivers in the 33-car field after waiting out rain showers that twice interrupted proceedings Sunday.

Even then, five drivers were still waiting on the qualifying line when the track closed at 6 p.m., among them the No. 1 and No. 2 qualifiers for the 1971 race, Peter Revson and Mark Donohue.

Gary Bettenhausen and Mario Andretti, further down in the ranks.

Though they aren't eligible for the pole, still to be heard from are such chargers as Al Unser, A. J. Foyt Jr., and newcomer Bill Vukovich.

Foyt and Al Unser broke their engines during qualifying attempts, while Vukovich lost control after completing one lap and crashed into the first turn barrier.

Al Unser won the 1970 and 1971 races and Foyt is the only active three-time winner. Foyt was the lone driver to attempt to qualify Saturday, but a piston broke in his Coyote-Ford and he couldn't make repairs in time to run Sunday.

Aside from Vukovich, the day's only other crash involved front-runner Jim Malloy, Denver, Colo. Malloy's Eagle spun 75 feet and crashed into the third turn wall head on during the Sunday morning practice session.

He was listed in critical condition at an Indianapolis hospital with two broken legs, a broken arm and burns on the face, arms and legs.

Bobby Unser, driving a new Eagle produced by Dan Gurney's All-American Racers, rocketed around the 2 1/2-mile oval to compile his 195.940 average.

Bettenhausen was Sunday's second best qualifier at 188.877 m.p.h. He is driving a McLaren fielded by Roger Penske.

Mario Andretti, the 1969 Indy 500 winner and three-time national driving champ, grabbed a shaky hold on the other front row berth by qualifying at 187.617 in one of the Parnelli Jones team cars.

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Wittenberg University finally won the Ohio Conference tennis championships, but not until after rain first delayed the matches, then forced a shift in the competition site.

End of round two.

old Mays, who started his major league career in 1951 with the Giants, when the club was in New York.

While Mays was celebrating his return to New York, Tony Perez of Cincinnati celebrated his 30th birthday, driving in all of the Reds' runs with two homers, a double and a single in 4-3 and 2-0 victories over St. Louis.

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta edged Chicago 2-1, Houston outlasted Pittsburgh 7-6, Montreal ripped San Diego 9-3, and Los Angeles at Philadelphia was rained out.

The victory gave the Mets a 17-7 record, best in the National League, and put them three games ahead of runner-up Philadelphia in the East Division.

Mays' homer, which tied him with former Giant Mel Ott for seventh place on the all-time RBI list with 1,860, overshadowed Rusty Staub's first grand slam homer with the Mets.

"It was Mays' day," conceded Staub.

Perez gave Cincinnati a 2-0 lead in the third inning of the first game with a double that scored Jim McGlothlin and Joe Morgan. Then, after St. Louis had gone ahead in the top of the eighth on Joe Hagie's solo homer and Lou Brock's two-run shot, Perez drilled his fifth homer of the season into left center field.

In the nightcap, Perez singled in a run in the first inning and homered over the right-center field wall in the sixth in support of the three-hit, 12-strikeout pitching of Tom Hall, making his first National League start.

Darrell Evans' fourth homer of the season—his first in three weeks—broke a 1-1 tie in the ninth inning and lifted Atlanta past the Cubs.

Cesar Cedeno smashed a two-run homer in the first inning and Bob Watson hit the next pitch out of the park, triggering Houston's victory over Pittsburgh. The Astros added four runs in the second, the last scoring on a single by Watson.

The Pirates closed to within 7-6 in the seventh when Willie Stargell slammed a two-run homer, his sixth of the season and the 250th of his career. But unbeaten Jim Ray stopped them the rest of the way, gaining his third save against five victories.

Bob Bailey drove in three runs with a single and a double, Mike Jorgensen cracked a two-run homer, Ron Fairly had a solo shot and Tim Lincecum rapped a two-run double—his first hit in 29 at-bats—leading Montreal's attack against San Diego.

Jane Blalock Wins Suzuki Golf Clash

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — It wasn't bad "for a girl who earned $5,000 four years ago teaching history," said Jane Blalock as she clutched a check for $5,700.

The three-day paycheck was won when the hot pants-clad, pigtailed 27-year-old shot a final-round 70 for a 54-hole total of 208 and first money in the Suzuki Golf International Sunday.

Miss Blalock nearly went down to the wire before winning first prize in the event. She and Kathy Whitworth of Richardson, Tex., were tied at seven under par on the 17th hole.

"I knew Kathy was in at seven-under," said Miss Blalock. So when her first shot on the 17th landed within 20 feet of the cup, it was no time to play it safe. I figured there was no tomorrow and went for it."

The ball went straight as a die, right into the cup for a one-stroke edge which she maintained on the 18th.

Miss Whitworth, with a 67—five under par—and 209, earned $4,090 to beat Betty Burfeindt, at 211, and first-year touring pro Jocelyne Bourassa, 212.

Miss Whitworth, golf's all-time leading money winner, blazed through the back nine at the 6,033-yard Brookside Country Club in a sparkling 31 which included an eagle and three birdies. It gave her a momentary lead, until Miss Blalock charged back.

Amateur title in the event went to lovely Laura Baugh, the 16-year-old Long Beach, Calif., lass who fashioned a 220 which included a hole in one on the 155-yard 13th hole.

Pacers Seek To Widen ABA Lead

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Artis Gilmore of the Kentucky Colonels was voted the Rookie of the Year in the American Basketball Association this season and Julius Erving of Virginia was a strong second, but both their teams were knocked out of the playoffs by New York.

Now, the Nets are contending with another of the league's stand out rookies, George McGinnis of Indiana, and not faring well.

Spurred by the powerful McGinnis, the Pacers hold a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven championship series, which continues tonight at the Nassau Coliseum.

Nets' Coach Lou Carnesecca calls Indiana "a brutal team," and McGinnis, a muscular 6-foot-8, 235-pounder, is the ring-leader.

He bulled his way through the Nets' defense last Friday night for 30 points and 20 rebounds in Indiana's 114-108 victory before a record ABA playoff crowd of 15,241 at the Coliseum.

Following his strong performance in the third game of the New York series, McGinnis said that for the Nets to make a comeback against the Pacers they would "have to play stronger defense, move the ball better and get more aggressive off the boards."

The Stockdale team led through most of the 11 weekend with an average of 3,249 pins.

Hawkeyes Take Big 10 Championship

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Iowa's Hawkeyes swept a doubleheader from Northwestern Saturday to clinch their first undisputed Big Ten baseball championship in 33 years by winning their last 11 conference games.

Finishing with a 13-3 record, Iowa dumped Northwestern 6-1 in the first game, then bounced back from a 5-0 deficit to capture the nightcap and the title 10-8.

The last time the Hawkeyes won the Big Ten title was in 1939. They tied for conference championships in 1942 and in 1949.

Although six teams still have conference competition remaining next weekend, none can catch the Hawkeyes.

Minnesota, the preseason favorite, was rained out of a doubleheader against Wisconsin Saturday and the Gophers, finishing with a 9-5 record, slipped to fourth place.

Defending champion Michigan State, Michigan and Illinois all swept doubleheaders Saturday.

Michigan State rallied for four runs in the bottom of the seventh inning of the second game Saturday for a 6-5 victory over Ohio State and a doubleheader sweep. The Spartans took the opener 10-5 as Ron Pruitt blasted two home runs and a single to drive across five runs.

Broadcasting Offered At Hocking Tech

Hocking Technical College (formerly Tri-County Technical Institute) in Nelsonville, will offer a new two-year Associate Degree program in Broadcast Engineering.

The first of its kind in Ohio, the program will train students to operate and maintain the increasingly complex electronic equipment which is used in radio and television stations.

The program has been fully approved by the Ohio Board of Regents, which governs all State colleges and universities.

During the past decade, the broadcasting industry has experienced such a rapid growth that a need for qualified engineering technicians has become a major concern.

In a survey of occupational needs, the National Association of Broadcasters, indicates that approximately 20,000 people are currently employed as technicians in the broadcasting industry. There is approximately a 10 per cent turn over in employment each year, thus opening up a projected 2,000 jobs annually. At the present time, most of these positions are filled by internal advancements with on-the-job training. This has proven to be both cumbersome and expensive to the industry as a whole; as well as leaving a gap that could be filled by sound educational objectives and program planning.

Anyone interested in the Broadcast Engineering program should contact the Admissions Office of Hocking Technical College, Route 1, State Route 691, Nelsonville, Ohio 45764. Telephone: 753-3514.

Pupils Set School Strike In Britain

LONDON (AP) — Teen-age revolutionaries have raised the banner of pupil power and called a strike for Wednesday in London's schools.

Among their demands: no more staying after school, no more censorship of school magazines, no more school uniforms and free milk every day. The Schools Action Union, which is known to have links with several grown-up leftist groups, said if the one-day strike in London is successful, a nationwide pupil walkout will be their next move.

Strike leaders claimed pupils from at least 72 of London's 224 schools will take the day off on "Red Wednesday." They hope about 10,000 will rally in Trafalgar Square and march on County Hall the administrative seat of London.

About 100 youths between 12 and 18 met Sunday at a planning session in a curtained room in a London back street. Most wore Mao badges and said they were Marxists. Police detectives questioned several of the leaders later.

"Don't take my picture," one youngster pleaded with news photographers. "My mother thinks I'm at an art gallery. I'd lose my pocket money if she knew I wasn't."

Long-haired Simon Steyne, a 16-year-old leader of the movement, refused to talk to newsmen unless they paid him 100 pounds, or $260.

The newsmen refused.

Vocal Admirer Expresses Love

MOREHEAD, Ky. (AP) — Meva Adams of Fairborn, Ohio blushed unexpectedly Sunday afternoon during Morehead State University's spring commencement.

Just as the 21-year-old blonde was handed her bachelor's degree diploma, a voice rang out from the audience: "I love you."

The coed later identified her admirer as "a very special friend."

Nervous South Viet Forces Await All-Out Attack On Hue

By PETER ARNETT
and
HORST FAAS
Associated Press Writers

HUE, Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnamese forces are digging in around the pleasure palaces and throne hall of Hue's Forbidden City in preparation for a final stand.

Every day a new date is whispered by a street-side soothsayer or a general for the start of the final battle. Almost everyone deems that battle inevitable.

A week ago a large part of Hue's 200,000 people were panicked into leaving by the spectacle of defeated battalions and thousands of refugees fleeing.

Major White House Decor Changes Said Completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The reopening today of the Blue Room marks completion of a major redecoration of the White House described as "upgrading to museum quality."

The description comes from curator Clement Conger, who advised Pat Nixon during the three-year project in which 11 rooms, ranging from the President's bedroom to the press quarters, were refurbished.

The Blue Room, whose French empire decor has been exchanged for that of the James Monroe era, will be reopened formally at a reception tonight given by President and Mrs. Nixon for 800 persons who helped in the redecoration project.

The redecoration included:

- Addition of 18 period chandeliers and nine new rugs.
- Repainting of the East Ballroom, Family and State dining rooms, changing color tones slightly, and major redecoration of the Blue, Green and Red reception rooms.
- An "English Pub"-style press room built over the swimming pool installed for President Franklin D. Roosevelt and seldom used by Nixon.
- Creation of a ground-floor reception room, put together by with the board's decision. Backers of the measure expect the bill, if it passes, to be challenged before the Ohio Supreme Court, which first ordered the uniform appraisal and assessments "within a reasonable time."

"No matter what we do, we'll have to fly by the seat of our pants," said Sen. Michael Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, author of the bill. "Somebody is going to take us to court no matter what happens."

The Board of Tax Appeals, acting under the high court's mandate, ordered that all types of real estate be appraised at 100 per cent of true value and assessed for tax purposes uniformly at 35 per cent of that value.

When applied, the order is expected to bring sharp increases in agricultural and residential property taxes in most counties.

Maloney contends the delay in execution of the board order is imperative if counties are to avoid administrative and financial chaos this year attempting to charge values on the state's four million parcels of land.

The Senate will reconvene tonight at 8 p.m.; the House Tuesday at 10:30 a.m.

Another piece of "must" legislation expected to come up for floor consideration this week is a bill to create a new cabinet level Environmental Protection Agency.

The legislation has the mixed blessings of Gov. John Gilligan who thinks it could be stronger, and some strong opposition from others who claim the proposed agency would wield too much power.

The agency would assume the functions of the present state air and water pollution control boards, now operating under the Department of Health. The agency would police all the state's pollution laws.

Floor action is also likely this week in the House on a bill establishing a Department of Transportation, combining the current responsibilities of the Highway Department and the Division of Aviation, and adding a new division for transportation planning.

the crumbling northern front.

Almost all observers here believe that the North Vietnamese are not out for a headline-grabbing, lightning attack that might be followed by expulsion from the former imperial capital days later. This time they appear to want to make their success permanent and will attack only when they are truly ready.

It now appears that the objective is much more than the city of Hue. Hanoi's forces seem to be planning a coordinated offensive, hitting simultaneously at rural districts north and south of Hue, the urban area of the city itself and the U.S. and South Vietnamese combining offices used by the Secret Service and White House doctor.

—Redecoration of the President's bedroom in red, white and blue "to be patriotic," Mrs. Nixon said.

—Installation of an exercise room for the President's staff.

The White House has not disclosed the total cost of the redecoration. The only figure quoted was $574,000 for the press room.

Wealthy donors contributed sums said to be in excess of $100,000 per room for redecoration of the Red, Green and Blue rooms.

Evictions Worry Judge At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Hamilton County Municipal Court judge, noting that eviction cases are running more than 50 per week on the dockets, thinks public assistance laws ought to be changed to protect both landlords and tenants.

Judge Paul Gilday noted that 90 per cent of the eviction notices involve persons receiving welfare. He said that in most cases, the tenant has refused to pay the rent because the landlord has failed to make repairs.

He said he proposed to U.S. Reps. William Keating, R-Ohio, and Donald Clancy, R-Ohio, that federal laws be changed so that rental allowances of welfare recipients are paid directly to the landlords.

"One woman was getting $204 a month for aid to dependent children and hadn't paid her $54 a month rent to the Cincinnati Metropolitan Housing Authority," he said.

"If thefts are that high then maybe we should keep the money from them," he said, noting that the woman claimed she was robbed.

The jurist said he would also like restrictions on the landlords to make sure they keep property in repair.

He proposed a city ordinance for periodic checks by the city of all rental property. Landlords would have to agree to the inspections if they rent to welfare tenants. The city or tenant could withhold rent payment until repairs are made, he said.

military installations at Phu Bai Airport seven miles to the south.

If this action should succeed, it would give the Communist command virtually all of South Vietnam north of Da Nang.

Only U.S. air power and long-range Vietnamese artillery raids are interrupting the enemy effort to line up for the attack. Firepower is seen as a delaying weapon at best, buying time for the new commander of the 1st Military Region, Lt. Gen. Ngo Quang Truong, to prepare his defenses.

The North Vietnamese have gone out of their way to avoid minor skirmishes. They seem set on the big attack.

It is a surprise to discover each morning that the Highway 1 lifeline, that leads north to the new front line at My Chanh and south to Da Nang, is still open.

Not much is known yet about the number of North Vietnamese soldiers preparing for the Hue campaign. One estimate says the total enemy force is 30,000 men.

Conferees Eye Higher Education Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees, grappling with the $23-billion higher education bill, focus this week on desegregation and busing amendments which most believe are the key to the bill's survival.

After eight weeks of sessions, unsettled questions are said to be narrowed down to:

—Whether to accept stringent House antibusing riders or milder Senate ones.

—Agreement on one version of two highly different versions of a section that would provide $1.5 billion for schools with desegregation problems.

—Deciding how general aid is to be divided among colleges and universities.

Provisions already agreed on, conference sources say, include an important new aid program for the nation's eight million college students, establishment of a National Institute of Education designed to improve higher education, and tough measures designed to curb discrimination against women in admissions and obtaining scholarships and in hiring and pay for women teachers and professors.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

The showers were forecast mostly for afternoon and evening hours over northern sections of the state.

The threat of showers will end later tonight as the low continues eastward. Clearing skies are forecast Tuesday.

Showers and thundershowers Sunday night dumped as much as a half-inch of rain in the Dayton area.

Temperatures at dawn were fairly uniform, generally in the mid 50s.

Post-Mortem On Mummy Will Probe Old Diseases

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — They're going to cut into an Egyptian mummy Tuesday to find out if cancer, hepatitis, syphilis and polluted air were common 3,000 years ago.

The autopsy will be conducted at the physical anthropology laboratory of the University of Pennsylvania Museum by seven doctors who hope the post-mortem will help prepare for possible future changes in man's disease patterns.

"We will see if man then died of the same things we did," says Dr. Martin Mandell, a 48-year-old neurologist who is a consultant in the unusual project. "I have a good idea they may have, but I don't think they lived long enough to develop some of the diseases we're now getting."

The subject of the autopsy will be one of three mummies which have been X-rayed at the museum. None is a pharaoh or a queen—just an ordinary citizen of ancient Egypt.

"We'll look at the X-rays to see which will be most valuable and most informative in finding diseases," says Dr. Michael Zimmerman, a pathologist now working for his PhD in anthropology. "We will unwrap and perform a post-mortem examination just as you'd do on a person who had just died."

O-K-I Sets Hearings On Highway Plans

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Ohio-Kentucky-Indiana Regional Planning Authority will hold a fourth public hearing Tuesday on highway plans for the Cincinnati area.

The implications for neighborhoods in the area bounded by Int. 74 and Int. 75 in the northwest corner of Cincinnati will be discussed.

The meeting will be held at Aiken High School. The meeting for Friday night had been canceled.

Laurelville Alumuni Will Meet May 20

Past graduates of Laurelville High School will gather May 20 in the school gymnasium for their annual alumni banquet, and not May 29 as reported in Saturday's Herald.

To make reservations for the dinner, which is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. that Saturday evening, alumni should contact Mrs. Howard Egan or Celesta Hoy, both of Laurelville.

19th century imitation of Peking's Imperial City, barely survived the fighting of the 1968 Tet Offensive. Another major battle will probably complete the destruction of this historic site symbolizing the essence of precolonial free Vietnam.

The road from the city to the Valley of the Tombs along the Perfume River is churned up by the tracks of huge 175mm guns that speed out on artillery raids against Communist troops in the A Shau Valley.

Fire Base Boyd, an ugly scar on a hilltop bristling with howitzers, overlooks one of Vietnam's most serenely romantic spots, the 150-year-old tomb and landscaped garden of Emperor Ming Nang.

When there are no snipers around, South Vietnamese and American officers like to retreat briefly into this other world of heavily scented lotus ponds under vaulted bridges linking delicately structured pavilions.

The heart of Hue's defense—and the headquarters of the northern region—is located within the thick walls of the Citadel, a formidable fort which French army engineers designed 150 years ago for the defense of the emperors.

While the half-empty city

waits, farmers in the countryside are hurriedly harvesting a record crop of rice, hoping to get it on the market before the battle begins. They want to cash in on a year's work effort before they become refugees.

The Americans would like to see the South Vietnamese push more to the west and to the north where the enemy is gathering. One American who participated in the marine raid said the help from the U.S. air and naval forces was "the best and most fantastic support that I have ever seen in my years in Vietnam."

Ever more American support continues to be available. Whether Hue stands or falls depends largely on how the South Vietnamese use it.

Probe Blaze Fatal To 117

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — Police questioned a workman today on suspicion he may have carelessly dropped a lighted cigarette and touched off the fire that killed 117 persons in a seventh-floor cabaret Saturday night.

Keiji Kawashima, 36, was doing electrical work on the third floor of the department store in which the night club was located when the fire broke out on the same floor, police said. He and four other workmen escaped injury.

But about 170 persons at the Play Town cabaret upstairs were trapped in smoke when the flames below cut off the electricity, stopping the elevators. Officers said the door to the emergency stairs was locked.

"After the fire broke out, everyone was shouting escape," recounted an injured cabaret girl from her hospital bed. "I don't remember thinking of anything but escape. There was a lot of smoke, choking everybody."

The flames never reached the cabaret, but authorities found the bodies of 96 hostesses and customers dead of asphyxiation. Twenty persons were killed falling or jumping from the windows or from the roof one story above, and another cabaret girl died Sunday of injuries. Twenty-eight others were injured, 10 of them seriously, authorities reported.

The fire was Japan's worst since 1951, when 107 persons died in a Yokohama railroad station.

Jane Blalock Wins Suzuki Golf Clash

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — It wasn't bad "for a girl who earned $5,000 four years ago teaching history," said Jane Blalock as she clutched a check for $5,700.

The three-day paycheck was won when the hot pants-clad, pigtailed 27-year-old shot a final-round 70 for a 54-hole total of 208 and first money in the Suzuki Golf International Sunday.

Miss Blalock nearly went down to the wire before winning first prize in the event. She and Kathy Whitworth of Richardson, Tex., were tied at seven under par on the 17th hole.

"I knew Kathy was in at seven-under," said Miss Blalock. So when her first shot on the 17th landed within 20 feet of the cup, it was no time to play it safe. I figured there was no tomorrow and went for it."

The ball went straight as a die, right into the cup for a one-stroke edge which she maintained on the 18th.

Miss Whitworth, with a 67—five under par—and 209, earned $4,090 to beat Betty Burfeindt, at 211, and first-year touring pro Jocelyne Bourassa, 212.

Miss Whitworth, golf's all-time leading money winner, blazed through the back nine at the 6,033-yard Brookside Country Club in a sparkling 31 which included an eagle and three birdies. It gave her a momentary lead, until Miss Blalock charged back.

Amateur title in the event went to lovely Laura Baugh, the 16-year-old Long Beach, Calif., lass who fashioned a 220 which included a hole in one on the 155-yard 13th hole.

Pacers Seek To Widen ABA Lead

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Artis Gilmore of the Kentucky Colonels was voted the Rookie of the Year in the American Basketball Association this season and Julius Erving of Virginia was a strong second, but both their teams were knocked out of the playoffs by New York.

Now, the Nets are contending with another of the league's stand-out rookies, George McGinnis of Indiana, and not faring well.

Spurred by the powerful McGinnis, the Pacers hold a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven championship series, which continues tonight at the Nassau Coliseum.

Nets' Coach Lou Carnesecca calls Indiana "a brutal team," and McGinnis, a muscular 6-foot-8, 235-pounder, is the ring-leader.

He bulled his way through the Nets' defense last Friday night for 30 points and 20 rebounds in Indiana's 114-108 victory before a record ABA playoff crowd of 15,241 at the Coliseum.

Following his strong performance in the third game of the New York series, McGinnis said that for the Nets to make a comeback against the Pacers they would "have to play stronger defense, move the ball better and get more aggressive off the boards."

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The University of Kentucky has signed swimmers from Louisville and Lima, Ohio, to letters of intent.

Coach Ron Huebner said he had signed Rick Rubenstein, a butterfly swimmer from Louisville Westport, and Steve Stockdale a backstroke from Lima.

Both also compete in the individual medley. Huebner said both have academic averages at or near the straight-A level.

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Ed Sneed of Columbus, Ohio, shot an even par 72 Sunday to win the $25,000 Maumelle Open Golf Tournament.

Sneed, a graduate of Ohio State University, finished the four-round tournament with a total of 292, six strokes under par.

All alone in second place two strokes back was Joel Goldstrand at 284. Goldstrand shot a two under par 70 Sunday.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Five bowlers from the Stockdale team of Marysville, Ohio, Sunday won the 11-week team handicap championship of the Ohio State Bowling Tournament here.

Splitting the top $1,700 in prize money were Joseph Hall, Dick Bullerman, Werner Wulff, John Baker and Dick Holbrook. The Stockdale team led through most of the 11 weekend with an average of 3,249 pins.

Hawkeyes Take Big 10 Championship

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Iowa's Hawkeyes swept a doubleheader from Northwestern Saturday to clinch their first undisputed Big Ten baseball championship in 33 years by winning their last 11 conference games.

Finishing with a 13-3 record, Iowa dumped Northwestern 6-1 in the first game, then bounced back from a 5-0 deficit to capture the nightcap and the title 10-8.

The last time the Hawkeyes won the Big Ten title was in 1939. They tied for conference championships in 1942 and in 1949.

Although six teams still have conference competition remaining next weekend, none can catch the Hawkeyes.

Minnesota, the preseason favorite, was rained out of a doubleheader against Wisconsin Saturday and the Gophers, finishing with a 9-5 record, slipped to fourth place.

Defending champion Michigan State, Michigan and Illinois all swept doubleheaders Saturday.

Michigan State rallied for four runs in the bottom of the seventh inning of the second game Saturday for a 6-5 victory over Ohio State and a doubleheader sweep. The Spartans took the opener 10-5 as Ron Pruitt blasted two home runs and a single to drive across five runs.

Broadcasting Offered At Hocking Tech

Hocking Technical College (formerly Tri-County Technical Institute) in Nelsonville, will offer a new two-year Associate Degree program in Broadcast Engineering.

The first of its kind in Ohio, the program will train students to operate and maintain the increasingly complex electronic equipment which is used in radio and television stations.

The program has been fully approved by the Ohio Board of Regents, which governs all State colleges and universities. During the past decade, the broadcasting industry has experienced such a rapid growth that a need for qualified engineering technicians has become a major concern.

In a survey of occupational needs, the National Association of Broadcasters, indicates that approximately 20,000 people are currently employed as technicians in the broadcasting industry. There is approximately a 10 per cent turn over in employment each year, thus opening up a projected 2,000 jobs annually. At the present time, most of these positions are filled by internal advancements with on-the-job training. This has proven to be both cumbersome and expensive to the industry as a whole; as well as leaving a gap that could be filled by sound educational objectives and program planning.

Anyone interested in the Broadcast Engineering program should contact the Admissions Office of Hocking Technical College, Route 1, State Route 691, Nelsonville, Ohio 45764. Telephone: 753-3514.

Pupils Set School Strike In Britain

LONDON (AP) — Teenage revolutionaries have raised the banner of pupil power and called a strike for Wednesday in London's schools.

Among their demands: no more staying after school, no more censorship of school magazines, no more school uniforms and free milk every day. The Schools Action Union, which is known to have links with several grown-up leftist groups, said if the one-day strike in London is successful, a nationwide pupil walkout will be their next move.

Strike leaders claimed pupils from at least 72 of London's 224 schools will take the day off on "Red Wednesday." They hope about 10,000 will rally in Trafalgar Square and march on County Hall the administrative seat of London.

About 100 youths between 12 and 18 met Sunday at a planning session in a curtained room in a London back street. Most wore Mao badges and said they were Marxists. Police detectives questioned several of the leaders later.

"Don't take my picture," one youngster pleaded with news photographers. "My mother thinks I'm at an art gallery, I'd lose my pocket money if she knew I wasn't."

Long-haired Simon Steyne, a 16-year-old leader of the movement, refused to talk to newsmen unless they paid him 100 pounds, or $260.

The newsmen refused.

Vocal Admirer Expresses Love

MOREHEAD, Ky. (AP) — Meva Adams of Fairborn, Ohio blushed unexpectedly Sunday afternoon during Morehead State University's spring commencement.

Just as the 21-year-old blonde was handed her bachelor's degree diploma, a voice rang out from the audience: "I love you."

The coo later identified her admirer as "a very special friend."

Nervous South Viet Forces Await All-Out Attack On Hue

and
HORST FAAS
Associated Press Writers

HUE, Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnamese forces are digging in around the pleasure palaces and throne hall of Hue's Forbidden City in preparation for a final stand.

Every day a new date is whispered by a streetside whoosayer or a general for the start of the final battle. Almost everyone deems that battle inevitable.

A week ago a large part of Hue's 200,000 people were panicked into leaving by the spectacle of defeated battalions and thousands of refugees fleeing the crumbling northern front. Almost all observers here believe that the North Vietnamese are not out for a headline-grabbing, lightning attack that might be followed by expulsion from the former imperial capital days later. This time they appear to want to make their success permanent and will attack only when they are truly ready.

It now appears that the objective is much more than the city of Hue. Hanoi's forces seem to be planning a coordinated offensive, hitting simultaneously at rural districts north and south of Hue, the urban area of the city itself and the U.S. and South Vietnamese military installations at Phu Bai Airport seven miles to the south.

If this action should succeed, it would give the Communist command virtually all of South Vietnam north of Da Nang.

Only U.S. air power and long-range Vietnamese artillery raids are interrupting the enemy effort to line up for the attack. Firepower is seen as a delaying weapon at best, buying time for the new commander of the 1st Military Region, Lt. Gen. Ngo Quang Truong, to prepare his defenses.

The North Vietnamese have gone out of their way to avoid minor skirmishes. They seem set on the big attack.

It is a surprise to discover each morning that the Highway 1 lifeline, that leads north to the new front line at My Chanh and south to Da Nang, is still open.

Not much is known yet about the number of North Vietnamese soldiers preparing for the Hue campaign. One estimate says the total enemy force is 30,000 men.

Defending forces include some of South Vietnam's best troops — most of the marines, some airborne, the full 1st Infantry Division — plus a newly organized home "Division of Iron" and what's left of the 3rd Infantry Division after the debacle in the north.

The new corps commander's flair for detail is already visible. New bunkers topped with fresh sandbags adorn the old

Forbidden City within the citadel where Vietnam's emperors once reigned.

Everywhere, history mingles with the battle preparations.

Machine guns poke from the multi-tiered pavilions of the Summer Palace. American advisers to one division have been bedded down in the palace emperor's favorite concubines.

The Forbidden City, an early

19th century imitation of Peking's Imperial City, barely survived the fighting of the 1968 Tet Offensive. Another major battle will probably complete the destruction of this historic site symbolizing the essence of precolonial free Vietnam.

The road from the city to the Valley of the Tombs along the Perfume River is churned up by the tracks of huge 175mm guns that speed out on artillery raids against Communist troops in the A Shau Valley.

Fire Base Boyd, an ugly scar on a hilltop bristling with howitzers, overlooks one of Vietnam's most serenely romantic spots, the 150-year-old tomb and landscaped garden of Emperor Ming Nang.

When there are no snipers around, South Vietnamese and American officers like to retreat briefly into this other world of heavily scented lotus ponds under vaulted bridges linking delicately structured pavilions.

The heart of Hue's defense — and the headquarters of the northern region — is located within the thick walls of the Citadel, a formidable fort which French army engineers designed 150 years ago for the defense of the emperors.

While the half-empty city

waits, farmers in the countryside are hurriedly harvesting a record crop of rice, hoping to get it on the market before the battle begins. They want to cash in on a year's work effort before they become refugees.

The Americans would like to see the South Vietnamese push more to the west and to the north where the enemy is gathering. One American who participated in the marine raid said the help from the U.S. air and naval forces was "the best and most fantastic support that I have ever seen in my years in Vietnam."

Ever more American support continues to be available. Whether Hue stands or falls depends largely on how the South Vietnamese use it.

Major White House Decor Changes Said Completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The reopening today of the Blue Room marks completion of a major redecoration of the White House described as "upgrading to museum quality."

The description comes from curator Clement Conger, who advised Pat Nixon during the three-year project in which 11 rooms, ranging from the President's bedroom to the press quarters, were refurbished.

The Blue Room, whose French empire decor has been exchanged for that of the James Monroe era, will be reopened formally at a reception tonight given by President and Mrs. Nixon for 800 persons who helped in the redecoration project.

The redecorating included:

—Addition of 18 period chandeliers and nine new rugs.

—Repainting of the East Ballroom, Family and State dining rooms, changing color tones slightly, and major redecoration of the Blue, Green and Red reception rooms.

—An "English Pub"-style press room built over the swimming pool installed for President Franklin D. Roosevelt and seldom used by Nixon.

—Creation of a ground-floor reception room, put together by combining offices used by the Secret Service and White House doctor.

—Redecoration of the President's bedroom in red, white and blue "to be patriotic," Mrs. Nixon said.

—Installation of an exercise room for the President's staff.

The White House has not disclosed the total cost of the redecoration. The only figure quoted was $574,000 for the press room.

Wealthy donors contributed sums said to be in excess of $100,000 per room for redecoration of the Red, Green and Blue rooms.

Evictions Worry Judge At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Hamilton County Municipal Court judge, noting that eviction cases are running more than 50 per week on the dockets, thinks public assistance laws ought to be changed to protect both landlords and tenants.

Judge Paul Gilday noted that 90 per cent of the eviction notices involve persons receiving welfare. He said that in most cases, the tenant has refused to pay the rent because the landlord has failed to make repairs. He said he proposed to U.S. Reps. William Keating, R-Ohio, and Donald Clancy, R-Ohio, that federal laws be changed so that rental allowances of welfare recipients are paid directly to the landlords.

"One woman was getting $204 a month for aid to dependent children and hadn't paid her $54 a month rent to the Cincinnati Metropolitan Housing Authority," he said.

"If thefts are that high then maybe we should keep the money from them," he said, noting that the woman claimed she was robbed.

The jurist said he would also like restrictions on the landlords to make sure they keep property in repair.

He proposed a city ordinance for periodic checks by the city of all rental property. Landlords would have to agree to the inspections if they rent to welfare tenants. The city or tenant could withhold rent payment until repairs are made, he said.

Conferees Eye Higher Education Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees, grappling with the $23-billion higher education bill, focus this week on desegregation and busing amendments which most believe are the key to the bill's survival.

After eight weeks of sessions, unsettled questions are said to be narrowed down to:

—Whether to accept stringent House antibusing riders or milder Senate ones.

—Agreement on one version of two highly different versions of a section that would provide $1.5 billion for schools with desegregation problems.

—Deciding how general aid is to be divided among colleges and universities.

Provisions already agreed on, conference sources say, include an important new aid program for the nation's eight million college students, establishment of a National Institute of Education designed to improve higher education, and tough measures designed to curb discrimination against women in admissions and obtaining scholarships and in hiring and pay for women teachers and professors.

Post-Mortem On Mummy Will Probe Old Diseases

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — They're going to cut into an Egyptian mummy Tuesday to find out if cancer, hepatitis, syphilis and polluted air were common 3,000 years ago.

The autopsy will be conducted at the physical anthropology laboratory of the University of Pennsylvania Museum by seven doctors who hope the post-mortem will help prepare for possible future changes in man's disease patterns.

"We will see if man then died of the same things we did," says Dr. Martin Mandell, a 48-year-old neurologist who is a consultant in the unusual project. "I have a good idea they may have, but I don't think they lived long enough to develop some of the diseases we're now getting."

The subject of the autopsy will be one of three mummies which have been X-rayed at the museum. None is a pharaoh or a queen — just an ordinary citizen of ancient Egypt.

"We'll look at the X-rays to see which will be most valuable and most informative in finding diseases," says Dr. Michael Zimmerman, a pathologist now working for his PhD in anthropology. "We will unwrap and perform a post-mortem examination just as you'd do on a person who had just died."

When it's over, after maybe eight hours, the wrappings will be replaced and the body put back into its burial case.

Bottling Firm Boosts Value Of Returnables

CINCINNATI (AP) — The deposit price on Coca-Cola bottles was increased to a nickel from two cents today in an effort to cut down debris in the three-state area around Cincinnati.

The price hike was announced Sunday night by J. Cromer Mashburn Sr., president of the Cincinnati Coca-Cola Bottling Co. which holds a 22-county franchise in Ohio, northern Kentucky and southwestern Indiana.

He said the increase was "a means of saving the consumer of Coca-Cola shopping dollars" because "the nickel the consumer spends is the nickel he, or she, saves by the use of a re-usable package."

He said he hoped the increase value of the bottles will "have a positive ecological effect in reducing litter, both in rapid return of bottles for re-use and as a means of underlining the value of the re-usable bottle for the consumer."

Probe Blaze Fatal To 117

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — Police questioned a workman today on suspicion he may have carelessly dropped a lit cigarette and touched off the fire that killed 117 persons in a seventh-floor cabaret Saturday night.

Keiji Kawashima, 36, was doing electrical work on the third floor of the department store in which the night club was located when the fire broke out on the same floor, police said. He and four other workmen escaped injury.

But about 170 persons at the Play Town cabaret upstairs were trapped in smoke when the flames below cut off the electricity, stopping the elevators. Officers said the door to the emergency stairs was locked.

"After the fire broke out, everyone was shouting escape," recounted an injured cabaret girl from her hospital bed. "I don't remember thinking of anything but escape. There was a lot of smoke, choking everybody."

The flames never reached the cabaret, but authorities found the bodies of 96 hostesses and customers dead of asphyxiation. Twenty persons were killed falling or jumping from the windows or from the roof one story above, and another cabaret girl died Sunday of injuries. Twenty-eight others were injured, 10 of them seriously, authorities reported.

The fire was Japan's worst since 1951, when 107 persons died in a Yokohama railroad station.
